

Big Items Settled

Only Loose Ends Delay Ford Contract

DETROIT (AP) — With most major pieces stitched into place, United Auto Workers union and Ford Motor Co. bargainers moved today to tie off the loose ends of a contract to end a 45-day strike, third-longest in auto history. Already wrapped up, an industry source said, were enough big items to make the package probably the largest settlement ever in the automaking industry and possibly one of the richest ever in any industrial field.

But among the unresolved matters was the cost-of-living escalator clause, highly prized by the UAW.

UAW President Walter P.

Reuther was thought to be striving for a few more improvements to bring to $1 an hour the value wage and fringe benefit gains would have over the three-year contract period.

Wage Increases

The source said Reuther already had won wage increases that would, over the three years, range from 43 to 59 cents for most workers and 79 to 95 cents for the 20,000 skilled tradesmen among the 180,000 strikers.

Tentative contract gains won by the union also included fatter pensions and pay increases in the second and third years of the contract, bigger than those provided in the last two years of the previous pact.

The items won by the UAW, the source said, also included the 60-year-old union chief's pet project—guaranteed annual income, or a form of it.

The cost-of-living escalator increases or reduces the pay of workers according to movement in the cost-of-living index. During the last three years it added 16 cents to workers' hourly wage.

No Tampering

Reuther has said the UAW will allow "no tampering" with the clause, which the UAW originally won at General Motors in 1948. Ford, offering to guarantee a minimum hourly wage gain of three cents in the last two years of the contract, proposed a ceiling of eight cents in those two years, the source said.

The total value of the package can't be precisely determined because the cost-of-living index will fluctuate in the coming three years.

Reuther has said that the union wouldn't settle for less than a 5 1/2 per cent gain in wages and fringe benefits—80 cents an hour over three years.

Under the old pact, wages and fringe benefits increased 87 cents an hour in the three years before it expired at 11:59 p.m. Sept. 6.

Long Session

The two sides ended late Friday a 31-hour bargaining session without confirming or denying details of tentatively settled contract provisions as outlined by the industry source.

The UAW hoped to use the Ford contract as a pattern for settlement at General Motors and Chrysler where UAW members have continued to work although their contracts also expired Sept. 6.

Any agreement is subject to ratification by union members. By Ford estimates, strikers have lost $170 million in wages.

At the same time, the nation's second-largest automaker has been taken out of production of 1968 models for more than six weeks, and sales of Ford cars in the first 10 days of this month fell 60,000 below the Ford sales total for the same period last year.

The sales drop came despite the fact that Ford dealers around the nation still have about 140,000 cars on hand, most of them 1967 models, but about 45,000 of them the 1968 models built before the strike began.

$500,000 Fire Destroys Appleton Flats Warehouse

$250,000 Copper Wire Stockpile Destroyed With Kurz & Root Co. Building in Friday Night Blaze

What fire officials said could be the most damaging fire in years caused a loss that could run between $250,000 and $500,000 Friday night at Kurz & Root Co., Inc., warehouse on E. North Island Street, in the heart of Appleton's industrial flats area. Appleton Fire Chief Roland Kuehl said he would confer today with State Fire Marshal Earl Schwabe of Green Bay about circumstances surrounding the blaze in the large frame warehouse which contained tons of copper wire and other materials.

197 Viet Cong Die in 20-Hour Battle in South

South Vietnamese Infantry, Fliers Team for Victory

CO LUI, Vietnam (AP)—South Vietnamese infantry teamed up with armor, artillery and repeated jet air strikes Friday, and 197 Viet Cong were killed in 20 hours of fighting in South Vietnam's northernmost sector, South Vietnamese spokesmen reported.

The Vietnamese said 18 of their soldiers were killed and 107 were wounded.

The battle was joined after chessboard moves by south Vietnamese troops acting on information that the 814th Viet Cong Battalion was preparing to attack the militia outpost at Co Lui tonight, the eve of the elections for South Vietnam's new House of Representatives.

Two battalions of infantry and an armored column hunted in the coastal wastelands along the South China Sea, Thursday without success. The armor returned to nearby Quang Tri. During the night the Communists hit one of the government battalions with 120 rounds of mortar fire.

Armor Support

On Friday government commanders moved their operation area three miles to the east and the battle was on. The armor rushed in to support the infantrymen and air and artillery also was thrown in.

The post's bunkers have deteriorated badly due to rain and lack of maintenance. Only a few strands of barbed wire stand between the triangular fort's feeble mud walls and the salt wastes and rice lands where the Communists normally rule during the night.

By the time the sun came up, all the Vietnamese units were caught up in heavy fighting.

The fire, discovered about 7 p.m. by an unidentified employee of nearby Appleton Manufacturing Co., apparently started in one of several barrels of refuse standing outside, close to the west wall of the old building. Kuehl said it could not be immediately determined how the fire started.

Sparks from the blaze ignited three small fires on the roof of Appleton Manufacturing Co. core plant, about 100 yards east. Firemen, using an aerial rig, quickly extinguished the small fires.

Eugene B. Brownell, Kurz & Root president, said the building, owned by Allis-Chalmers, contained a major portion of his firm's stock of the magnet wire, used in manufacturing electrical equipment. Brownell said the stockpile of the copper wire was greater than usual because of a strike in the magnet wire industry. An inventory had recently been completed of the warehouse stock, and indications were that the wire supply totaled about $250,000.

Brownell said he considers the warehouse and contents "an entire loss." He said he believes the loss is fully insured.

Governors End Cruise Without Vietnam Vote

Democrats Stand Together on Policy, Split on Taxes

FREDERIKSTED, V.I. (AP) — The Democrats lost the final naval battle to the Republicans but contended they won the political campaign as the nation's governors wound up the business of their seaborne conference without acting on a Vietnam resolution.

Although some dissident Democrats joined GOP state executives in knocking down a proposal to support the tax increase President Johnson has recommended to combat inflation, the Democrats stood solidly together in a test vote on the Vietnam issue. Prevented by Gov. George Romney's veto from getting executive committee approval of a strong war-supporting resolution, the Democrats tried to bring a watered-down version before the last conference general session Friday.

It would have committed the conference to saying that "beyond any question of approval or disapproval of the strategic and tactical decisions which are not our responsibility, we stand united in our fight for the freedom and self-government of the people of South Vietnam."

Vote Falls Short

Gov. Calvin L. Rampton of Utah moved to bring it up under a rules suspension that required a three-fourths favorable vote. On the tally 18 Republicans were against acting on it. One, Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio, joined 25 Democrats in voting to bring up the resolution, but this was six short.

Rampton and Gov. John Connally of Texas taunted the Republicans with the charge they were not supporting the war. The Democrats felt that they had put their toes on a political spot.

Rhodes said he broke the GOP ranks because he had consistently supported the war effort and U.S. troops in Vietnam.

Gov. John A. Volpe of Massachusetts, elected new chairman of the national conference, supplied clear indication of Republican political uneasiness when he told a news conference he thinks several of his party members may issue statements to clarify their position.

Unprecedented Defenses At Pentagon for Protest

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Yale University, described the Pentagon bristled with unprecedented defenses today for officer of the law facing clear evidence of an alleged crime at its doors, the spotlight event and refusing to accept the evidence. He was derelict in his duty.

26,000 Ready

To insure that today's demonstrators remain peaceful, the government flew in 6,000 troops—and word was that are not people coming in who are not total pacifists.

Any incidents, he said, would be provoked by the police.

"We want to confront the warmakers, not the police of Washington," he said. "We would like to encircle the Pentagon, block entrances and make it clear that the work of the Pentagon must be stopped."

Warren Christopher, the number two man at the Justice Department, said the demonstrators were issued a permit "because we deeply believe in the right of peaceful assembly and the right of expression guaranteed by the Constitution."

Not License

But he added: "Let no one be mistaken—the granting of a permit is not a license for unlawful conduct."

The demonstrators were assigned the north parking lot for their rally. The 40 doors to the Pentagon were sealed off to anyone not having business there.

The small army of policemen, marshals, paratroopers and other protective manpower was assembled primarily for the period immediately after the parking lot rally. At that time, according to the demonstrators' timetable, those who wished to do so would turn to acts of civil disobedience. The nature of these acts was not spelled out in advance.

In Washington, across the Potomac River, the Capitol and White House were closed to tourists.

President Johnson, scheduled a full working day at the White House.

State Contingent

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Forty-three anti-war protesters from Milwaukee and Waukesha counties left by chartered bus Friday to take part in a national anti-war demonstration today at Washington, D.C.

The Pentagon, one of the world's largest office buildings, is a symbol to peace groups of U.S. military involvement in Vietnam.

A Justice Department official warned that unlawful conduct would not be tolerated.

Cards Untouched

Ten men representing draft resisters piled what they said were the draft cards of 992 young men on a Justice Department desk Friday. Department officials refused to accept the cards but they were left on a conference table. Later a spokesman said they had been given to the FBI.

After leaving the cards, which they said had been collected around the nation, the men spoke to about 500 of their supporters gathered outside the department and challenged the government to arrest them.

three women recommended the optional prison sentence.

Atty. Allan Cain, Appleton, told The Post-Crescent today he will appeal the conviction, contending it was improper for the death penalty to become a part of the trial proceedings and required Hephner's submission to a jury trial.

"We claim the defendant's constitutional rights were violated," Cain said. The appeal will be filed next week.

Hephner's son, Michael Lee, 19, is to be tried separately at a later date, having been charged with aiding and abetting the robbery, and receiving proceeds.

Chilton Man to Appeal

Hephner Guilty of Holdup, Abduction

MADISON — A Chilton man with a history of bank robberies, was found guilty Friday by a Federal Court jury on three charges arising from the 1965 holdup of the State Bank of Withee.

Raymond J. Hephner, 41, of route 4, Chilton, is free on $10,000 bond pending pre-sentence investigation.

Capping four days of testimony, the jury returned three separate verdicts against Hephner, who under federal law could have received a death sentence.

The Chilton man was convicted on one count of bank robbery which carries up to a $5,000 fine or 20 years imprisonment; and two counts of abduction, each calling for a minimum penalty of 10 years in prison or death.

Death Possible

The death penalty was possible under federal law for abduction but the jury of six men and three women recommended the optional prison sentence.

Atty. Allan Cain, Appleton, told The Post-Crescent today he will appeal the conviction, contending it was improper for the death penalty to become a part of the trial proceedings and required Hephner's submission to a jury trial.

One of the most interesting reactions to the furor was that of the faculty. Before Wednesday evening's rally, 300 professors met in the Law Building to outline plans, deciding to give full support to the students.

Thursdays afternoon a full faculty meeting was called by Chancellor William Sewell. It lasted more than two hours. When students learned that the meeting was being transmitted via speakers to various parts of the student Union and other buildings on campus, the result was crammed hallways, with students sitting on floors, listening, boozing, laughing with scorn at professors' remarks, or, at times, bursting into strong applause.

Many students felt it was their duty to hear what the faculty had to say. As one put it, "There's a time to study, but there's also a time to feel responsible toward the university."

Wild Dow Protests on Campus Give Pause to UW Freshman

BY PETE OTTO

MADISON — Until Wednesday most UW freshmen thought little about Dow demonstrations or University administration policy. All has changed and we'll have many thoughts, for a long time.

Wednesday afternoon's bloody clashes between students and police have been virtually the only topic of conversation — in dormitories, the union, Bascom Hill, and State Street bars. Opinions are as varied as the people who express them.

Of most concern to 'now-involved' students is the administration policy on what has happened and what will happen. Why was Dow Chemical Corp., producer of napalm used in the Vietnam war, allowed to recruit prospective employees on campus during "Vietnam Week"? Who ordered police to the commerce building site of the interviews and subsequent demonstrations? Who ordered them to enter the building with clubs swinging? Or, were clubs swinging at all?

No one has all the right answers, if indeed any. But most think they do and are vociferous with friends, or total strangers, in discussing the events of the crucial 48-hour period.

Wednesday's demonstrations were a new experience for most of us, who were only at the fringes, standing on cars, or sitting on tops of buildings to get a look at what was happening.

Yet, when police used their first dose of tear gas, all of us became involved. Hard core experienced demonstrators had encountered the gas before, but for me it was something new. Cries of "Don't run," and "Don't rub your eyes," could be heard above the trampling of feet running down Bascom Hill.

Some, eyes closed and tears streaming down their cheeks, allowed themselves to be pushed along with the crowd through the rear doors of Bascom Hall and eventually around and out the front door. It was strange to see bearded men "crying" with their girl friends, or professors with briefcases in one hand lifting their glasses and blotting tears from their faces with the other.

Immediately after the first gassing, rallies became the order of the day. Robert Zwick-

Many students felt it was their duty to hear what the faculty had to say. As one put it, "There's a time to study, but there's also a time to feel responsible toward the university."

Not among the least of our troubles caused by our new emotional involvement was the interruption of six-week exams. Many had been scheduled for Thursday evening, but with professors locked in debate at the faculty meeting, tests were inconceivable, and postponed.

Organization of various factions was amazingly rapid. The protestors themselves were prepared in advance, with circulars and speeches well planned. Other groups with no knowledge of the magnitude the trouble would take, were issuing releases by early evening.

At evening demonstrations Thursday, student leaders called

Roseboro Gets $20,000 From Mask Maker

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Johnny Roseboro, catcher of the Los Angeles Dodgers, was awarded $20,000 damages Thursday for injuries suffered when his face mask was hit by a foul tip.

The 34-year-old catcher had asked for $25,000 from Rawlings Manufacturing Co. He said the injury occurred in a game April 29, 1962, when a foul tip off the bat of Pittsburgh Pirate Dick Stuart struck the face mask.

Roseboro told the six-man, six-woman jury that foul tips often hit the mask but that time the bars of the mask gave way, one of them striking Roseboros right eye.

He said the eye was bleeding and he thought he had lost it ending his career. He did not return to the Dodger lineup until May 10 of that year, he said.

Redskins Acquire Kicker to Replace Injured Gogolak

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins picked Dick Absher as their badly needed kicking specialist replacement Thursday and got him for $100 off the waiver list, the team announced.

Coach Otto Graham said the former University of Maryland end, a big 6-foot-4, 237 pounder, will do both the kickoffs and place kicking.

The Redskins had to hustle up a kicker because their ace scorer, Charlie Gogolak, has been sidelined with a muscle injury and so is Gogolak's substitute, John Love.

Several Tryouts

Graham has been trying out several candidates this week and finally narrowed it down to Absher and a Maryland teammate, Bernardo Bramson, a soccer style kicker like Gogolak.

It was found that Bramson's kicks which did well at Maryland were too low for the Redskins' desires. Ironically, Absher never beat out Bramson as a placekicker in their three years at Maryland but he did do the kickoffs and punts in addition to playing end.

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS Utah (AP) — Mickey Thompson, a 400-mile-per-hour driver, broke a four-year retirement Thursday and joined two others in setting a flock of stock car records.

While jet cars have exceeded 600 miles per hour on the Salt Flats, Thompson's 406 is still the record for the fastest one-way mile in a piston-driven car.

'Catch 20,000 Fly Balls Over Winter,' Felipe Alou Told

ATLANTA (AP) — Felipe Alou, under orders to catch 20,000 fly balls this winter, says his new assignment to center field by the Atlanta Braves will be all right "if I play there every day."

"I don't like to play it just once in a while," said the 32-year-old Dominican Republic native whose batting average dropped to .274 last year from .327 in 1966. He appeared at a news conference Thursday.

Alou is recovering from an elbow operation at the end of the season.

He expressed interest in working out a financial arrangement for catching those fly balls this winter.

"Maybe they will pay me $1 for every one I catch," he said, "and I will pay them $5 for each one I miss. I bet I could make an ambition."

Power Outage Affects Large Area in City

Late Morning Interruption Lasts 24 Minutes

Much of downtown Appleton and other areas was powerless for nearly a half hour Friday. Electrical power from College Avenue to the northern city limits was out from 11:23 to 11:47 a.m.

Power from Appleton north to Bonduel also went out at 11:23 a.m., but was restored within a few minutes. Officials of Wisconsin-Michigan Power Co. in Appleton said power had been fully restored in all but a few scattered areas by noon.

The company said power was restored through the reswitching of lines in the affected area. No cause for the blackout has yet been determined, although crews were still investigating.

Calls Flood
Switchboard operators at the power company's operations center at 807 S. Oneida Street were flooded with calls as soon as power went out and crews were sent on information given by those affected by the blackout.

Although power has been restored, determination of the cause may take "from 10 minutes to several days to determine," according to a power company spokesman.

Traffic lights throughout the northern section of downtown Appleton went out during the blackout but police said no crowded intersections or accidents were reported. Both fire and police stations were flooded with calls during the blackout.

Emergency Generator
An emergency generator was used at the Aid Association for Lutherans building on College Avenue when power failed. Elevators operating when the blackout occurred were automatically locked into position in the basement, preventing anyone from being trapped.

Robert Wilson, operations manager for Prange's department store, reported elevators there leveled off at the time of the blackout.

Halloween Party Set at Black Creek

BLACK CREEK — In the absence of an organized youth group in the village, the Kitchen Queens Homemakers have agreed to aid in the annual Halloween party for the area children.

Mrs. Gary Brick, Mrs. Walter Kluge and Mrs. Harold Lathrop will judge costumes. The group will distribute treats.

Future sessions will include a workshop for the Seymour center at the community hall Nov. 7. A film on "Expo 67" is planned. The Nov. 1 project will be "Food Laws in Action." The program will be presented by Margaret Nelson.

The group discussed the possibility of sending layettes to infants in Vietnam. It was agreed the project could be completed in cooperation with other homemaker clubs. The Red Cross would arrange transportation.

Expensive Shooting

Russell Lakey, 39, 1523 N. Durkee St., Appleton, forfeited $55 bond Friday in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 on a charge of shooting a green heron, which is protected under state law Oct. 7 in the Town of Bovina.

Shiocton's Entire Fire fighting force fought a blaze early today which leveled Shiocton Milling Co., owned by John Fitzgerald. Officials could not establish

Fire Destroys Building, Machinery Early Today At Shiocton Milling Co.

25 Men From 4 Units Fight Blaze That Threatened Nearby Homes

SHIOCTON — Fire, fed by years' accumulation of grain dust, leveled the Shiocton Milling Co. early today.

Fire Chief Dale Nichols said there had been no cause established for the blaze which was reported at 4:30 a.m. Firemen were unable to save any of the contents of the 100 by 30-foot frame building on Railroad Street.

John Fitzgerald, Shiocton, owner of the village's only feed mill, said he could not determine the extent of the loss, which was at least partially covered by insurance. Fitzgerald, who bought the firm about five years ago, said most of the feeds and grains in the building were bagged, except for the corn, which was bulk.

Machinery Destroyed
Milling machinery and other merchandise commonly found in a feed mill also were destroyed. Several members of the Fitzgerald family and part-time workers are employed at the mill.

Fitzgerald said early today he did not know if he would rebuild the mill.

About 25 firemen responded to the alarm with four units. Firemen said flames were pouring from the south end of the building and from the "cyclone" on the roof when they arrived.

Brillion Woman Bows 192 at Koffarnus Lanes

BRILLION — Mrs. Dennis Krizeneksky's 192 was high game and Mrs. Lester Schaefer's 512 was high series in women's league bowling at Koffarnus Lanes Thursday.

Mrs. Ermin Thiel posted a 506 series and Mrs. Dennis Ott had a 505. Koffarnus and Pete's Barber Shop led the league with 14-7 records. O'Connor Pharmacy is second with a 13-8.

Officials could not immediately determine where the blaze started. The first call came in as a fire at the nearby Sportsman's Bar, owned by Chief Nichols.

Former Dance Hall
Firemen said that grain dust caused the flames to race uncontrolled through the building that once was used as a dance hall. Firemen poured water on a nearby house owned by Wilfred Helsler that was for a time threatened by heat and flames.

The roof and walls of the single story grain mill collapsed within an hour after firemen arrived. Flames could be seen for more than five miles.

Firemen, who said it was one of the most damaging blazes in recent years, expected to be at the scene most of this morning.

Charge-backs for Calumet Boosted

CHILTON — A nearly 60 per cent increase in charge-back costs for Calumet County residents in Winnebago State Hospital, and Northern, Central and Southern colonies for the retarded and mentally-ill added a burden to the 1968 proposed Calumet budget.

The unexpected increase was learned in a bill from the state Thursday for $103,615 in charitable and penal institutions costs compared with $64,964 a year ago.

The boost was mainly the result of a change in the state's formula from a flat $5 per week per patient to a per capita cost percentage.

Retroactive Charge
The additional charges are retroactive to July 1.

A cost comparison for Calumet broken down shows Winnebago State Hospital $1,795 last year and $24,141 this year; Central Colony $1,250, $8,537; Northern Colony, $2,952, $9,668; and Southern Colony, $1,375, $5,514.

The Finance Committee was not immediately available for comment.

The increase in the state charge-backs may either cause an increase in the tax rate or a Calumet budget cut.

Counties Warned
Counties were warned of the increases at the Wisconsin County Boards Association convention, Green Bay, in September by Calvin Mills, superintendent of the Clark County Hospital. He had urged counties to prepare for the impact.

Gene Arnn, state budget analyst, had estimated the total impact to the counties to be about $10.7 million if the counties did not have those patients certified as being eligible for aid under one of various federal aid programs.

HILBERT — The purchase of an overhead projector for the parish school was considered by St. Mary Holy Name Society last week.

A committee composed of Donald Richard, Harold Sippel and Philip Gehl was named to investigate prices and report at next month's meeting. A public card party headed by Edward Koehler was planned for early December to help finance the project.

Leander Roehrig, Sylvester Berchem, Arthur Campbell and Koehler will serve on the society financial committee.

Fire Chief Ernest Pitzen asked that some evacuation preparations be made in the event of an emergency during church services.

Committees for future card parties will be taken alphabetically from the membership roster.

CESA 8 Head Says School Merger Plan Is Impractical

A plan to combine a number of school districts in the Cooperative Educational Service Agency (CESA) 7 at this time would not be conducive to district lines and should not be considered at this time.

This was the feeling expressed by Kenneth Poppy, coordinator of CESA 8, which includes the Manawa and Weyauwega districts, listed in the CESA 7 proposed "master" plan, as presented at a state reorganization committee meeting earlier this month at Stevens Point.

According to the plan, the number of districts in CESA 7 would be reduced from 25 to 11 and would combine the Waupaca and Weyauwega districts; Manawa, Iola and Marion; Tigerton, Bowler, Wittenberg, Almond and Plainfield, plus other sections in the central area of CESA 7.

Would Require Study
In an interview, Poppy listed some of the factors involved in such a reorganization.

"Any positive response at this time would mean an in-depth study of any proposal by my agency, and we haven't done anything like that," he said.

"Also involved would be the desires and wishes of the people, for whose good we are working. Judging from the many calls I have been getting, especially

Warden Asks Court for Leniency

"He's an outstanding citizen in his community," a conservation warden told the court Friday in recommending that a man be arrested for damming a navigable stream be let off with removal of the dam.

Warden Albert Vander Bloemen had arrested Walter Schlise, 61, 1110 Oshkosh St., New London, for illegally damming Maple Creek, a navigable stream. The warden told the court Friday that he found the earth dam near the junction with the Embarrass River, Oct. 5. Vander Bloemen said that Schlise owns land adjacent to the creek.

Schlise, who pleaded no contest, told the court that he had been advised by his attorney there was some question as to whether Maple Creek was a navigable stream.

The warden recommended that Schlise remove the dam and the "court review the matter."

Judge Gustave J. Keller continued the case to Nov. 10, by which time he said the dam must be removed. He set bond at $100.

2-Year-Old Dead On Arrival at Chilton Hospital

CHILTON — Walter Kirsten Skinner, 2, 34 Baldwin St., was dead on arrival at Calumet Memorial Hospital about 2:50 p.m. Friday afternoon.

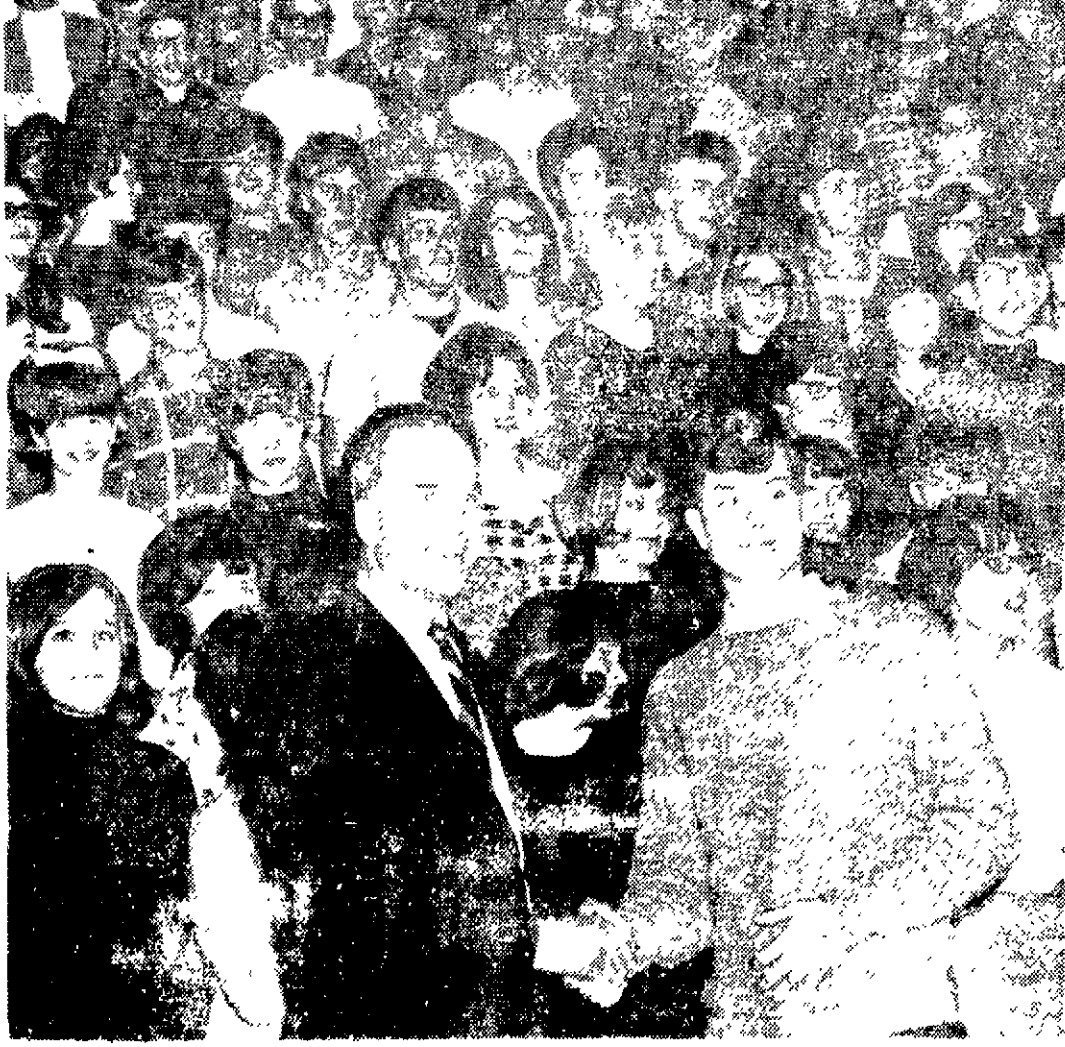

The youngster was brought to the hospital by his foster father, Martin Smaxwell of the same address, according to Leroy Hughes, Calumet county coroner.

Hughes has ordered an autopsy, and results will not be known for about a week or 10 days.

The Skinner boy was under the jurisdiction of the Calumet County Welfare Department.

Hughes said.

ment center of the University of Wisconsin, which states that no pupil should be required to spend more than one hour in transport one way between home and school," the coordinator added.

"With consolidation, some of the children in the outlying districts could be forced to travel at least an hour and a half one way on the bus," he said.

Poppy did concede that both districts are in dire need of better physical facilities but both are planning new schools, as is Waupaca, which, according to the "master" plan, would be joined with Weyauwega.

Area Differences
Another point stressed by Poppy was that there are too many differences between the Manawa and Iola districts to make the plan workable. Manawa, he said, has closer affiliation with other communities to the east, especially Clintonville and New London.

Though he did consider the Weyauwega-Waupaca plan "feasible," he did add that Waupaca, with its 580 students in high school, and Weyauwega "meet the criteria to operate an adequate school system."

"School reorganization can be effective only if the electors of each district feel that increased educational opportunities will be available by the merger," Poppy concluded.

Leon Case, CESA 7 coordinator, has said the plan is not an official proposal, but is a recommendation of district combinations which may not come about for several years, and in some cases never.

"The school committee is not taking a definite stand on the proposal and is open for any suggestions or recommendations about it," he stressed.

Probation of New London Man Revoked

WAUPACA — Earl E. Mohrme, former Milwaukee resident, had his probation revoked Friday to spend more than an hour in transport one way between Reformatory, Green Bay, Sentence was made in Waupaca County Court.

Mohrme, who pleaded guilty Sept. 26 to issuing worthless checks, had been placed on probation for two years. Within 24 hours, he was arrested again for reckless use of firearms and threatening the life of his wife.

On the reckless use of firearms he was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail.

The district should take in days in the county jail an area in which people from one or more city, village or rural area depend on each other for a variety of services or have certain other factors in common and Social Services

Outagamie Proposes Record $7.6 Million 1968 Budget

Supervisors Get Chance to Slice Nov. 6; See $3.3 Million Levy

An Outagamie County budget and institutional charge backs of $7,696,910 calling for a tax from the state to the county.

The county equalized tax rate for 1968 would be approximately $4.65, compared to an even $4.65 this year.

Total revenues anticipated by the county are $4,389,403, compared to 3,775,921 for 1967.

By categorical breakdown, anticipated expenditures for 1968 are: general government, $339,200 (up $22,000); debt retirement, $484,484 (down $11,000);

On the revenue side, anticipated income includes shared taxes, $828,000 (up $108,000); fees and costs, $120,050 (up $10,000); fines and forfeitures, $50,000 (up $5,000); gifts and grants (welfare aids), $2,421,671 (up $360,000); other general income, $366,310 (up $116,000); county institutions, $514,529 (down $16,000); and, other income, $48,780 (up $18,000).

The finance committee recommended applying $150,000 from general fund surplus to reduce the tax levy. This is included in the "other general income" category. Last year, there was no surplus funds applied against the levy.

Same Contingency
Also recommended for next year was a contingency fund of $100,000 to take care of emergency expenses which may arise that are not budgeted. This is the same amount placed in the contingency fund this year.

The proposed budget may still be changed by the county board when it starts its annual session Nov. 6. Requests for additional spending may be made from the floor of the board by individual supervisors and items may still be deleted from the budget by board action.

When the budget is adopted, the tax levy will be apportioned among the individual governmental units in the county according to their portion of the county's equalized valuation.

The city of Appleton will have to pay approximately half of the total county tax levy.

Charge Called 'Bad Judgment' Bow and Arrow Hunters Get Break From Sympathetic Judge, Attorney

Two young hunters who were given conflicting times at which to appear in court, found a sympathetic judge and district attorney Friday and had conservation charges against them dismissed.

John C. Balcerak, 21, Greenfield, and Gary H. Paluszryk, 22, Milwaukee, were arrested in the Town of Deer Creek the afternoon of Oct. 4 by a conservation department "special warden," who charged him with "unlawfully possessing a strung bow while traversing an area inhabited by deer after 1/2 hour after the close of daily hunting hours."

The men were informed to appear in Outagamie County Court Room 2 at 10 a.m. Oct. 19. They were later informed by letter that the court appearance has been changed to Oct. 20 at the same time and place.

Warden Missing

They were in court Friday morning, about 15 minutes before court time. But the warden didn't appear. Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer told the men that conservation violation cases are heard only on Tuesday and Friday afternoons. The men had driven here from Milwaukee.

Schaefer asked for dismissal of the charges Friday morning, citing the time confusion for which the men were not responsible, and the fact that the arrest was made only 10 minutes after they were to have been out of the woods.

Schaefer also asked that the warden be ordered to return the hunters' bows and arrows.

Judge Gustave J. Keller concurred, saying, "The court believes in law enforcement and its need as far as conservation is concerned, but it also believes there is a matter of judgement."

He said he did not feel the arrest 10 minutes after hours was reasonable, and he commended Schaefer for using "good judgement."

To add to the trouble, the hunters had already experienced, they lost their car keys, and had to leave their auto in the woods the night of Oct. 4, after their arrests.

Seymour was never in the game, as the Indians sacrificed 14 quick points in the first period, fumbling the ball away the first two times they had the ball. Each time, the Panthers scored.

Coopman fired TD strikes to Mike Kardoske, Tom Coopman and Steve Herms in the second half as the Falls pulled away from the 14-0 halftime lead.

Thielmann Scores Twice

Chilton Rolls to 38-13 EW Win Over Valders

CHILTON — The Chilton Tigers stomped the Valders Vikings here last night 38-13 in Eastern Wisconsin Conference action.

Chilton's Don Thielmann began the Chilton scoring by a one-yard run capping a 50-yard ground drive.

With this first quarter warm-up, Chilton scored twice in the second quarter. Ken Manok scored on a run after a 22-yard drive following a fumble recovery. Nick Schneider kicked the extra point. Ron Hillmann completed the first half scoring by a two-yard plunge capping a 55-yard drive. This brought the half-time score to 19-0.

The third quarter saw Chilton score twice again. Thielmann scored on a 33-yard run after a 50-yard drive, and the Ron Gruett scored on a 2-yard run Waupaca is now 3-0 in CW play and must face the only team which could possibly share the title with it on the final weekend of play. That team is Wittenberg, which received a severe jolt to its own title aspirations when it absorbed a 33-6 lacing from Manawa in the other league game Friday night.

One non-conference affair saw surprising Marion post its second straight win — a 7-0 homecoming triumph over Iola Scandinavia.

In a game which was scoreless until the second half, Waupaca pleased its homecoming crowd by smashing Weyauwega 19-0.

Mid-way in the third quarter Waupaca's Chuck Forseth began the Comet scoring sweep by running the TD over from the Weyauwega 28. Bob Solberg capped a 60-yard drive by running over from the two for the TD.

Then, in the fourth quarter, Weyauwega drove to the Waupaca eight, but was held on a fourth down play. Waupaca then ground out first downs by driving 93 yards, and Lee Morey scored the final touchdown with 52 seconds remaining. Doug Peterson kicked the extra point.

Keep Dominance

Weyauwega did not threaten until the fourth quarter, and the game itself fortified the Waupaca-Weyauwega legacy in which, since 1949, Waupaca has won 19 games and Weyauwega 5 — with one tie.

Manawa commenced scoring in the second quarter when Bob Passehl plunged over three yards capping a 60-yard drive. Then, with 33 seconds left in the half, a 22-yard TD pass from Doug Langman to Mike Marcy with the extra point run by Tom Griffin brought the half-time score to 13-0.

In the third, Wittenberg made its only scoring when Jim Stollenberg made the TD in a quarterback sneak, which had been set up by his 45-yard pass to Jerry Aanonsen on the two.

Manawa let loose in the last quarter scoring 20 more points. Griffin scored on a five-yard run after a fumble-recovery on the 20 and again on an 8-yard run. Bob Passehl kicked the extra points. Then with one minute remaining, a 56-yard pass from Langman to Passehl, who went over, brought the final score to 33-6.

Marion's homecoming was also made a success by beating Iola Scandinavia 7-0 with the only scoring made in the first quarter.

The scoring play was a three-yard run by Bruce West capping off a drive containing five out of Marion's total nine first downs. West also ran for the extra point.

Both teams held each other at bay, with Iola never getting past Marion's 30-yard line. Both accumulated substantial penalties, with Marion charged 100 yards and Iola 96.

Valders was able to stage a comeback in the fourth quarter, but it was not enough to stop Chilton. The Vikings' Terry Ruh scored on a one-yard plunge after a 90-yard drive. Chilton came right back to score on a 14-yard pass from Schneider to Dennis Woelfel capping a 56-yard drive.

Valders scored its second and last touchdown after a 10-yard pass from Ruh to Tom Braeden following a 65-yard drive. A pass from Ruh to Braeden gave Valders the extra point and brought the final score to 38-13.

The victory leaves Chilton with a 4-2-1 record and Valders at 4-3.

The Rioting at Madison

There are certain basic principles which should guide the administration of the University of Wisconsin in dealing with the leaders of the protest which erupted into a melee this week between students on the one hand and campus and Madison police on the other.

The demonstration went well beyond the bounds of peaceful protest. When the protesters invaded the Commerce Building and staged a sit-in in the corridors they were disrupting the normal functions of the university and impinging on the rights of other students attending classes there. The campus police chief acted properly when he ordered them to clear out of the building, and he was certainly justified in calling on the Madison Police Department for assistance when campus police could not handle the matter on their own.

In these situations the question arises whether disciplining of those responsible should be a university matter, or a police matter, or both.

If the actions affect the university adversely, or violate university rules, those responsible should be subject to university discipline. And we note that it was announced that 13 student leaders of the protest movement had been suspended or expelled.

When the actions involve public damage, it becomes a police matter, and the police certainly would have been justified in arresting and charging students involved in rock-throwing at the police when the pitched battle resulted outside the building. This is the action police took last year during similar violence.

The most puzzling aspect of the Madison violence, however, is the point of the demonstrations in the first place. What do the protesters really wish to accomplish?

The Dow Chemical Company is a widely-diversified manufacturing concern. One of its many products is napalm. The United States Government purchases napalm from Dow for military purposes. The U.S. Government has decided napalm is a useful weapon in the Vietnamese War. But it is the government and not Dow Chemical which made the decision to use napalm there. If Dow had not sold the napalm to the government certainly some other chemical concern would have done so.

When the university provides facilities for private concerns to interview Wisconsin students for prospective jobs, it is a service to the students. The more concerns which are encouraged to recruit on the Madison campus, the wider are the job opportunities offered the students.

If other students wish to inform their fellows that Dow sells napalm to the government, it is proper that they do so in a peaceful manner through picketing and placards. But when they seek to physically prevent the interviews from taking place, that is entirely another matter.

The precedent the university sets in the disposition of this case will be an important one for the future. The administration certainly has a strong case for disciplining those who were responsible for going beyond the bounds of peaceful protest. And the Madison police also would be fully justified in prosecuting those responsible for turning the demonstration into physical violence.

Encourage Defectors With Money

One of those Americans who feel strongly enough about policies to purchase huge ads in metropolitan newspapers recommended that the United States set up a massive system of monetary awards for the Vietnamese for the capture of members of the Viet Cong. Actually another country has already instigated such a program.

The Nationalist Chinese government on Taiwan is trying to encourage defectors from the mainland controlled more or less by the Communist regime in Peking. It offers to a defecting Red soldier who brings

Federal Laws Not Solving Problems

It is with some glee that Republicans are quoting the recent speech of Daniel P. Moynihan, a former assistant secretary of labor under Presidents Kennedy and Johnson, to the leadership board of the Americans for Democratic Action, a speech which questioned the very foundation of solving social problems through federal legislation.

With some justification, many Republicans are saying that Moynihan is correct and that the GOP has been saying this for years. But the real significance of the Moynihan speech to the left-leaning ADA is that it offers an opportunity for a consensus between the responsible leadership of both political parties to find a better method of attacking social problems through use of such devices as the proposed block grants to states or a sharing of federal tax revenues with the states.

A re-examination of existing methods is in order particularly because of the dark record of urban violence the past summer, as Moynihan agreed. And he said liberals should admit the need for re-examination.

"The (violent) summer of 1967 came in the aftermath of one of the most extraordinary periods of liberal legislation, liberal electoral victories, and the liberal dominance of the media of public opinion that we have ever experienced. Who are we, then, to be pointing fingers?" Moynihan asked.

Moynihan said liberals should divest themselves of the belief that the cities of the nation can be best run from agencies in Washington and should acknowledge that the federal government is good at collect-

Gov. Fairchild Speaks in Appleton

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Post for Oct. 17, 1867.

The Republican meeting at Adkins' Hall Saturday night last was well attended and ended at 11 o'clock p.m.

Dr. Davis made an excellent speech followed by one by Dr. Steele Gov. (Lucius) Fairchild came in from Green Bay on the accommodation train. He was met at the depot by several of our citizens and the band and came directly to the hall. He was received with enthusiastic response, applause, and he spoke for about an hour.

He talked well, was emphatic in his denunciations of treason and traitors. At the close of the meeting three cheers were given for the Governor, and then, led by him, the audience cheered for Gen. U.S. Grant and for Congress.

We learn that the meeting in

New London on Monday night was largely attended and that the listeners were enthusiastic.

U.N.'s Financial Plight Eased But It's Still $60 Million in Red

BY TOM HOGE
Associated Press Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations' financial plight has eased since it plugged up its two big peacekeeping operations, but the crisis is far from solved.

Noting recently that the world organization is still more than $60 million in the red, Secretary-General U. Thant warned that "prospects continue to give little cause for optimism."

A group of 14 experts who studied the financial situation said the main problem still was the failure of more than half of the organization's members to keep up with all their required payments.

The regular budget of the United Nations is financed by contributions from member states on a scale determined periodically by the assembly. At least that is the way it works out on paper.

A recent analysis, however, showed that from Jan. 1, 1957 through Sept. 30, 1965, the United Nations spent $1,170,500,000 and took in $976,600,000, leaving a shortfall of $193,900,000. This was partially offset after the United Nations issued $173,100,000 in emergency bonds.

The biggest drain on U.N. resources has come from the Congo and Middle East peacekeeping forces which required an outlay of more than half a billion dollars between 1956 and 1967. The UNEF operation alone cost the United Nations nearly $200 million over the years and the big Congo force ran up a whopping tab of $393 million.

Refusal of the Soviet Union, France and others to pay peacekeeping costs for one or both operations lies at the heart of the U.N.'s current deficit.

U.N. diplomats are hopeful that with the drain of these two operations cut off the organization's deficits can eventually be wiped out by voluntary contributions.

Thant has proposed a 1968 budget for regular U.N. activities of $141.8 million, an increase of $12.4 million over 1967 expenditures. Main reason for the jump was a plan to add 524 persons to the U.N. staff, mainly in the economic and social fields. This would raise the U.N. payroll to 8,102.

The Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions has also submitted to the assembly a recommendation of its own that only 271 new staff members be added, cutting Thant's figure almost in half.

These budget estimates do not include funds for related but specialized agencies such as the U.N. Scientific and Cultural Organization—UNESCO—the Food and Agricultural Organization — FAO and the World Health Organization — WHO.

Student's Position on Quaker Questioned

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Rebuttal to "Dear Mr Quaker" letter, Oct. 3, 1967.

After ten years in the school systems of America, do our children really think that our own country is the only one that teaches loyalty to country? Do they think that children in red countries are taught both sides of a question, or they are told of the atrocities visited upon millions of their own people to force that government on them?

We have leaned so far to the idea of giving both sides of a question that we have belittled our side right out of existence.

Do our young people think our war in Asia is a local rebellion as the red propaganda teaches? China's red regime was called a peaceful agricultural movement until it was in power. The fate of the poor Chinese on the mainland is pitiful now. Would this child have us get out and turn the Vietnamese over to this? We do get both sides of the news. Do they not know that we are fighting China and Russia? Where do they think the shells and equipment killing their brothers are made? If this were just the U.S. bullying a small country it would have been over years ago. Does this child just attend teenage beer bars while Russia and China boast that they will exterminate the U.S.? The only quarrel between China and Russia is as to the method of burying us.

Of course, they don't have to use their own men as long as smaller nations can be used to pull their chestnuts from the fire. They are willing to fight to the last Vietnamese (north or south) or the last Egyptian, and after that to the last of any other small nation they can use their propaganda on.

Is this student willing to correct the flaws of this nation by letting Negroes move into her neighborhood, by persuading her parents to help see justice done?

It is the Christian ideal that the individual was to control his government for his own good. Man as only a cog in the machinery of all important government is the communist idea.

If we cannot succeed in teaching Christian ideals and justice this government will fail. Brotherhood of man is a Christian precept. If these injustices are not wiped out in this generation, when they are spread out for all to see, we may live under communism of Russian origin or other dictatorship. This youngster will find that he has little to say as 'c the raising of his children, where he is to work or where he can live, if he feels no patriotism for the essential goodness of his country.

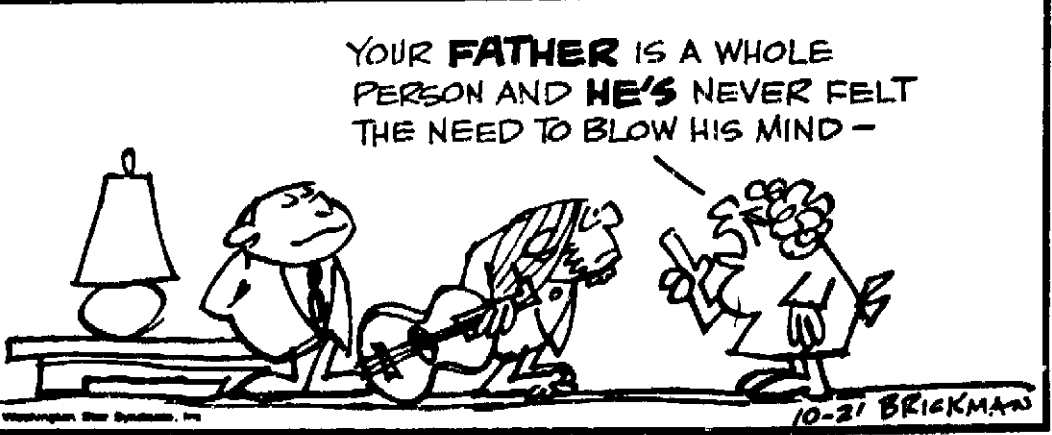

It sounded to me as though this student's propaganda would gladden many hearts in Moscow.

To claim that this propaganda was one-sided and then to knock the Quakers for not being one-sided in sending medicines to both sides is inconsistent.

I hope most students manage to sort out ideas better than this.

Wisconsin Report
Acquisition of Land Versus Development Is Still Major Issue

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON — If there is some confusion among the thousands of earnest Wisconsin citizens who describe themselves as conservationists and who are concerned with the fundamentals of the issue of protecting outdoors resources and assuring their use for posterity, it should not be surprising.

With even a slight effort to communicate effectively, the quarrel need not have happened. For example, the Legislature has never been told how long the ambitious land buying program is intended to continue. Thus far, about 150,000 acres of land has been acquired for the state through the so-called ORAP program, in addition to hundreds of thousands of acres already held when the Conservation Department won the new land budget six years ago.

How much more land is wanted? There are signs of growing land-owner resistance, in spite of high prices offered, in districts of Southern and Eastern Wisconsin.

Even those observers close to the statehouse soon find themselves wondering about the increasingly serious quarrel between the men chosen to make law and policy for the state on such matters and others and those administrators and their private group allies who are involved in the execution of the laws the Legislature enacts.

Put in the simplest possible terms, the conservation administration and its friends want to continue to buy lands useful for public recreation, reserving virtually the whole of its considerable budget for that purpose and deferring improvement and development for actual public use and enjoyment to another and uncertain but distant era.

Others including principal legislators who speak for a considerable number of private citizens, believe that some reasonable portion of the budget should be used now for development of such lands for the benefit of that recent generation of taxpayers which is providing the money to make the recreational tracts possible.

MERITS OF DEBATE

As so often happens there is merit on both sides of the quarrel.

As so often happens also the disputants have not made their positions altogether clear, and there is reason to suppose that if they restrained their angry outbursts and consulted together as partner servants of the people of Wisconsin, they would work out an arrangement acceptable to themselves and to the public whose interests they believe they represent.

Involved also is a resentment and distrust in the relations of the administrative services and the legislative branch that is manifested in so many other levels, especially in higher education.

The legislators are proud men. They hold their credentials through the election of the people, many of them in stiff and difficult election contests. The administrative office leaders can mutter their complaints and imprecations from the security of the civil service or the insulation of the tradition of tenure of the appointive bureaucracy.

DETAILED PLAN NEEDED

Even the sympathetic on-looker is sometimes surprised by the casual, even callous, attitude of the Conservation Commission toward the distressed farm families and others who find themselves in the path of the insatiable state condemnation power. At a recent commission meeting involving a big acquisition plan in Northwestern Wisconsin, aggrieved farmers involved got less consideration than would a fish and game violator in a justice court.

It is also difficult to perceive any plan in the day to day acquisition program. The commission could ameliorate if not altogether eliminate some of the Legislature's doubts by producing a simple and graphic explanation of its projects. Today commission transactions present no pattern, but a hazy. They appear even to the regular visitors to involve land grabbing where land grabbing is possible.

The legislative view on the issue has had some vindication in the current report of a study task force, which asked for a doubling of the land buying budget but which carefully stipulated that half of the money should be used for improvement and development looking toward early use. The fate of that proposition is highly uncertain, but it endorses the idea that land buying without end will increasingly disturb the body politic.

Woman Wants Stores To be Open on Sunday

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I would like to ask the person who wrote in to oppose shopping on Sunday to consider the benefits to those of us who must shop on Sunday.

1. My husband works long hours, six days a week (mostly out of town) and he is just too tired to go shopping after work on those six days. This may sound silly to some people, but I don't like to shop alone. Besides I don't drive a car in town I work during the week, too.

2. The stores don't open until 12 and they close in the early evening on Sundays. This is ample time for anyone to go to church — which I agree, we all should do.

3. Economically, the stores are a boon to our area. Before we had our own Sunday shopping, a great many of our local residents went to Oshkosh or Green Bay to spend their money. Now, we get it from other towns. Don't forget, most of these people who come to shop also buy gas and eat here.

4. These stores provide jobs, pay taxes and, in general, add to rather than detract from our city.

I agree there are certain businesses that should not be open on Sunday. Personally, I think it is right and good to see a couple shopping in a store on Sunday afternoons for their family's needs rather than sitting at the corner bar while the kids are left without some needed things. But, this, as was that of the lady who wrote in, is only my opinion.

I still think these stores should be patronized and welcomed, not called down. If, however, the greater portion of the public feels as does the lady who wrote in, then, I say, let's close all businesses in town. This would include bars, gas stations, neighborhood grocery stores — all of them. After all, why discriminate? One Who Enjoys Shopping on Sunday Afternoon

Injects Jewish Sabbath in Sunday Closing Arguments

Editor, Post-Crescent

I just finished reading the article from — "one who doesn't shop on Sunday" — and it gave me quite a chuckle!

I agree — that you should keep the commandment — remember the Sabbath and to keep it holy.

The Lord gave Moses (who was a Jew) these Holy Laws. Jesus Christ was a Jew also — he observed the Sabbath — which everyone knows on our calendar is Saturday. (In reality sunset of Friday to sunset of Saturday)

So if we are true "Christians" — we would follow our Lord — Jesus Christ who observed a Saturday Sabbath.

It is quite a lengthy tale to go into detail as how the early Christian Church changed the Sabbath and calendar — but my point is this:

How ironic it is to close stores on a Sunday Sabbath — not allowing Jews and many Christian churches to shop or work that day — while we would never think of closing stores to observe their Saturday Sabbath.

Jews and Christians observe the Ten Commandments. Christ observed a Saturday Sabbath — Christians (most) a Sunday Sabbath.

God Bless to each his own.

Three Fine Arts Programs Set At St. Norbert

National Players to Start Season Nov. 15 With Shakespearean

DE PERE — High Shakespearean comedy, a symphony orchestra and a brass quintet number the three attractions of the St. Norbert College Fine Arts Series for the coming season, according to an announcement today by Norbert Ecker, chairman of the fine arts committee.

“Much Ado About Nothing,” first event of the series, is scheduled for Nov. 15. Presented by the National Players, an American classical repertory touring company, the Shakespearean comedy is being brought back for the third time in the company's 19 years of touring by popular request.

The Chamber Symphony of Philadelphia, conducted by Angel Brullov, will perform Feb. 8. The first permanent chamber symphony to be established in this country and composed of 36 players, the ensemble has complete repertoire.

Chamber Music Group The Chicago Brass Quintet was formed to add a cultural contribution to the Midwest through a facet of chamber music — the brass quintet.

On May 5 this five-man group will play selections from each important period in music history beginning with the 15th century and culminating with the present.

Season tickets for the series are on sale at the St. Norbert College music department and at Newman's in Green Bay. All concerts will begin at 8:15 p.m. and will be held in The Penning Hall of Fine Arts on The De Pere campus.

Christmas Tree Picked for LBJ

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP) — A 20-foot blue spruce growing on the farm of Howard M. Cowan near here has been selected as the official Christmas tree for President Johnson and his family this year.

The tree, which will be displayed in the Blue Room of the White House, is being furnished by the Ohio Christmas Tree Growers Association, Inc.

Cowan's tree, which is about 20 years old, was selected by a committee appointed by Roy R. Pierce, association president.

“I was told to have the tree at the White House on Dec. 10, the day after Lynda Bird Johnson is married,” Pierce said recently.

British Bright Play Comes To Broadway

Plot Is There but Set in Collection Of Romantic Jokes

BY WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP) — “There's a Girl in My Soup,” the latest addition to Broadway's entertainment menu, is a bit of British meringue. Unsubstantial but pleasant.

The comedy which arrived last week at the Music Box theater is about a middle-aged Romeo who briefly falls for a teeny-bopper Juliet. Mainly, though, it's a string of frank, up-to-date jokes about romantic attitudes.

The 34-year-old actor, Terence Frisby, has a neatly inventive style with metaphor and sees to it that no one gets too involved or really bruised in the bedroom-go-round.

Bright Cast The cast has been tuned to a blithe pitch of trivial diversion by Robert Shetwyn, star also of the original London production.

As the miniskirted miss of unquenchable spirit and candor, Barbara Ferris has also come along from the West End incarnation, plus a trio of subordinate players.

Mr. Young, that rakish-eyed hero of uncounted film and TV escapades, handles the role of the amorous hero with an aplomb laced lightly with just enough sentimentality.

Title Incidentally The title, incidentally, derives from his activities as an international culinary expert when not otherwise occupied.

With the main two are Jon Pertwee, an astringently proper buddy, and Rita Gam and Erica Fitz as alluring passing fancies. Stanley Simmons has outfitted the three damsels with garments of urgent allure, while

Nelson Calls for Mink Import Limit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., Wednesday urged the Senate Finance Committee to support immediate controls on mink imports.

Nelson told the committee that the future of mink ranchers is being threatened by an alarming increase in mink imports, which have risen nearly 50 per cent in the past five years.

American mink ranching, Nelson said, is not a hobby or simply part-time work.

"It means full employment for thousands of Americans, who have an investment of nearly $200 million in ranch production alone," he said. "Mink pelt sales bring around $170 million into the country's economy each year."

Record Neenah School Budget Will Be Aired

NEENAH — Nine school board members and administrative personnel will be on hand at the first budget hearing meeting 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Spring Road School.

It is the first of two meetings planned by the board of education to give the public an opportunity to ask questions about every detail of the 1968 school budget.

4th Teacher Bargaining Session Set

Board, Union to Negotiate Items Other Than Pay

MENASHA — The fourth in a series of bargaining sessions between the members of Menasha Teachers Union, Local 1166 AFL-CIO and the board of education will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the school administration board room.

Again this year the sessions are closed to the public and the press.

At this stage of the bargaining for a contract for 1968-69, both the board and the union have exchanged a list of items for discussion, according to M. J. Gegan, superintendent, who has been chosen by both parties to issue joint releases at the close of each session.

By mutual consent, the bargaining sessions at this point have been confined to the discussion of non-monetary items. What these include has not been disclosed.

Salaries will be the last item under discussion.

In the board-approved budget, now in the hands of the Menasha council and the Town of Menasha chairman, 1968 instructional costs are set at $1.4 million in the total $2 million budget.

The $4.9 million budget, now in the hands of the town chairman and city council, is the highest in Neenah's history. It carries an increase of $780,951 in operating expense for 1968, up 23.2 per cent over the 1967 budget.

Donald Shepard, president of the board of education, will moderate the panel.

There will be brief presentations on the budget by Andree Pertain, chairman of the finance committee; Dr. John Wilson, chairman of the negotiating committee; Mrs. Marjorie Buchanan, head of the curriculum committee; James Fricke, assistant superintendent; James Clark, business manager; Miss Blanche McIntyre, director of instructional materials; Richard Carlson, transportation manager, and Donald Scott, superintendent.

County Highway Tax Levy May Increase 47 Per Cent

OSHKOSH — Winnebago County taxpayers' share of the county highway budget may go up almost 50 per cent in 1968, though the total amount spent on highways will be only slightly higher than last year.

The county highway department's proposed budget is $765,090. Estimated 1967 costs are $710,335.

The increase in the tax levy results from a 1967 budget that was considerably below actual expenditures. The 1967 budget was only $620,190, and

Homecoming Weekend got off to a brisk start for St. Mary's Zephyrs Friday evening as a series of floats toured Downtown Menasha, whooping it up for the "Dutchmasters." The Menashans the tax levy only $296,890. Snow removal costs were vastly underestimated and maintenance costs on county trunk highways was somewhat higher than expected.

For 1968, if the proposed budget is passed, the levy will be $436,790, or 47 per cent higher than last year's.

State aids budgeted will rise somewhat this year, from $323,300 to $323,370, but the increase won't begin to cover the increase in budgeted costs. The county budget tells only part of the story of county highway department operations. It tells of maintenance of 298 miles of county roads. It does not tell of work performed on 151 miles of state and federal highways and 458 miles of town roads. Incidental work is done on city and village streets. Costs and revenues from these operations are not included in the budget. The county is supposed to break even on them.

Department crews and equipment will do some $250,000 worth of work in any year on state and federal highways, including winter maintenance. Projects are billed to the state and payment is made to the county.

Winnebago County's 16 rural towns depend on the county's highway department crews, equipment and techniques to keep town roads in condition. The jobs cost in excess of $350,000 annually, paid by the towns which contract for the service and by the county institutions.

In all the county will perform almost $1.25 million of road work next year.

Finance Town Projects
Town road projects are bankrolled by the county. Amounts vary during the year, but generally from $17,000 to $115,000 in county funds are tied up in in-progress town road maintenance and repairs.

Not shown entirely in the county budget is the $110,000 to be spent on equipment to maintain the modern standard of its 230 - vehicle fleet. Vehicles range from a wheeled tar kettle to giant snow plows and earthmovers.

Materials and supplies run some $230,000 annually, only about $50,000 of which is included in the county board's budget.

What the department uses is its giant fleet and outside inventory of materials for are the 151 miles of state and federal highways and the 458 miles of town roads it maintains in addition to county roads. Incidental work is done as requested and schedules allow on some of the 255 miles of city streets and 10.61 miles of village streets in the county. Some work is done on grounds of parks and county institutions.

Nelson Discounts Anti-LBJ Campaign

BY CLIFF MILLER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH — Sen. Gaylord Nelson said here this morning an attempt by dissident state Democrats to encourage a "no" vote in the April primary against President Johnson and his Vietnam War policies "isn't a meaningful act in any way."

Nelson, himself a Democrat, who dissents from the administration's conduct of the war, refused to side with the newly-formed organization called "Concerned Wisconsin Democrats" (CWD).

In spite of variations in their recent statements about how they would conduct the war if given the chance, Republicans, including those most-often mentioned as presidential candidates, are in "substantial agreement with the President," Nelson added.

Approach Unfruitful
However, he said, the effort of the CWD "in my judgment isn't a fruitful approach to the problem at all."

Nelson made his comments to newsmen before taking part in a conference entitled, "Vietnam: Crisis in Ethics," at the student union on the Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh campus.

The program is sponsored by the Wisconsin Council of Churches and the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee Institute of World Affairs.

Nelson shared the program with educators, clergymen, and other civic leaders active in current policy discussions in the Midwest.

During his prepared speech, Nelson disputed administration arguments for U.S. involvement in Vietnam and repeated his well known views favoring de-escalation and negotiations.

He advocated a halt in the bombing of North Vietnam "in order to afford the opportunity to explore the possibility of negotiations."

He said it was "rather ironic" that Gen. Thieu, newly-elected president of South Vietnam, favors a bombing pause while U.S. military leaders oppose it. "This country should fundamentally alter our military and political policies in South Vietnam," he added.

'Their Job'
He said the South Vietnamese should be put on notice that from now on it would be their job to "do the chore of political and military pacification" in their own country, while U.S. troops occupy population centers, furnish supplies, transportation and air cover.

Nelson said if the South Vietnamese "do not have the morale, the interest, the determination to win under these circumstances, then their cause can't be won at all."

Elaborating during the press conference, Nelson said he believed that if U. S. troops won the war and then pulled out of a nation which had been unable to win its own war, the Communists would quickly take it over.

He said the U. S. now faces a commitment of at least one million men, and perhaps two million, to continue the conflict "without any assurance that a clear-cut military victory would result in any event."

Political vs. Military
"Furthermore, it has finally dawned on the 'Hawks' that a military victory does not assure a political victory — in fact, there is no connection between the two, and one without the other is of no value whatsoever," Nelson declared.

He said U. S. leaders, both GOP and Democrat, have been caught in "a colossal miscalculation," but he added that recognition of what he called the "tough realities of Vietnam" offers a chance to reappraise and redirect the U.S. efforts.

Nelson also took issue with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who has said American involvement in Vietnam is designed to counter future activities of Red China. "This is rubbish," he said. "There are no Chinese troops involved in Vietnam. The war there is not directed or controlled by the Chinese and never has been."

Nelson continued, "The war in Vietnam does nothing to contain China, if indeed, that is our objective. It is more likely to have the opposite effect."

1st Sanitation Conference Hosted by Neenah-Menasha

NEENAH - MENASHA — The first annual conference of Wisconsin Sewage Works Operators, hosted by the Neenah - Menasha Sewage Commission, will draw noted sanitation engineers to the Biggar's Motel in Appleton for three days next week.

The conference, which will open Wednesday noon, will include talks by Lawrence B. Polkowski, professor of civil engineering at the University of Wisconsin at Madison, and James Lissack, regional director of the State Division of Resource Development.

Others on the program are Lawrence Ernest, laboratory director of the Milwaukee Sewerage Commission, David Martin, engineer-manager of the Green Bay Metropolitan Sewerage District, Karl Zuehlke, chief operator of the Eau Claire sewage treatment plant; Frank Vilen, superintendent of Kenosha sewage treatment plant; Robert Jones, president of Donohue and Associates, Sheboygan, and Donald Lund, of Bamster Engineering Co., St. Paul, Minn.

Concurrent Sessions
Concurrent sessions are scheduled Wednesday with Martin leading the "New Operator's School;" Polkowski speaking on "Industrial Waste;" Ernest on "Nutrients — Problems Created and How to Remove;" and Lund, Alternative to Storm Water Separation."

Lissack will explain state water resource responsibilities to open the Thursday morning session. "The Mandatory Certification Law" will be explained by Vilen, and Jones will outline the operation of the Neenah-Menasha sewage plant.

The group will tour the Neenah-Menasha plant on Thursday afternoon and Kimberly-Clark Corporation's Lakeview Mill will be on the ladies' program.

Menasha Chairman
The committee in charge of arrangements for the conference include Vern Zingsheim, superintendent of the Neenah-Menasha Sewerage Commission, and Robert Robert Deering and Robert Thompson, both of Green Bay.

Officers of the group are: Clyde F. Lehman, Chippewa Falls, president; Lyle I. Land, vatter, West Bend, vice president; Charles Kelley, Elkhor, sent to Wales from Outagamie past president; Gary K. Coates, Racine, secretary-treasurer; Karl L. Zuehlke, Eau Claire, ant police, sideswiped several autos on Highway 32 and swerved into a tree one mile north of Kenosha.

Store Manager Says He Didn't Sell Minor Beer

Robert Vandehy, 48, 1300 Lakeshore Drive, Menasha, pleaded innocent Friday afternoon to a charge of selling beer to a 17-year-old Appleton youth who last week was sent to the State School for Boys at Wales.

Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller set trial for March 13 and ordered $100 bond. Vandehy manages the Holiday House liquor store at 116 N. Locust St., Appleton.

Outagamie County sheriff's investigators allege that the Appleton youth bought beer at the store Sept. 19. The boy was sent to Wales from Outagamie County Juvenile Court for his involvement in several offenses, including drinking and assisting in the escape of two youths from the county jail Oct. 2 by furnishing them with hacksaw blades.

Neenah School Officials Form New Speakers Bureau

NEENAH — Any civic group, club or church group looking for a special program has a new source in a new speakers' bureau of the Neenah public schools.

Fifty teachers, principals and supervisors, including elementary grades, special subject areas and every phase of education, have listed special subjects which they will be available to present.

Ninety subjects have been listed, among them individualized arithmetic, the growing importance of music in today's society, creativity in mathematics, team teaching, vocational possibilities in home economics in today's world, the programs and courses supported by federal money, innovations in the Neenah educational program, a new look at vocational education, physical education and intern team teaching.

A roster of speakers and their subjects has been mailed to all local organizations and speaking engagements can be arranged with the individual teachers.

"The most significant thing about this, I believe, is that the teachers want to inform the community about what is going on in the Neenah schools," commented Supt. Donald Scott.

Some of the specific subjects and their speakers include: "Musicality" (something more than just playing an instrument or singing a song) by Tony Dörner; "The Renaissance in Music and Art," Robert Ekholm; "The Changing Role of Women and Its Effect Upon Education," Miss Helen Firkus; "Innovations in Curriculum," Asst. Supt. James Fricke; "Why Educate a Trainable Child?" Miss Eudora Leverance; "The Trouble with Today's Teenagers," Alvin Long; "In Defense of Ability Grouping," James Ronca; "What's So Modern About Modern Science?" Edward Mueller, and "Changes in Education during the last 10 years," Robert Thom.

Fire Destroys Building, Machinery Early Today At Shiocton Milling Co.

25 Men From 4 Units Fight Blaze That Threatened Nearby Homes

SHIOCTON — Fire, fed by years' accumulation of grain dust, leveled the Shiocton Milling Co. early today.

Fire Chief Dale Nichols said there had been no cause established for the blaze which was reported at 4:30 a.m. Firemen were unable to save any of the contents of the 100 by 30-foot frame building on Railroad Street.

John Fitzgerald, Shiocton, owner of the village's only feed mill, said he could not determine the extent of the loss, which was at least partially covered by insurance.

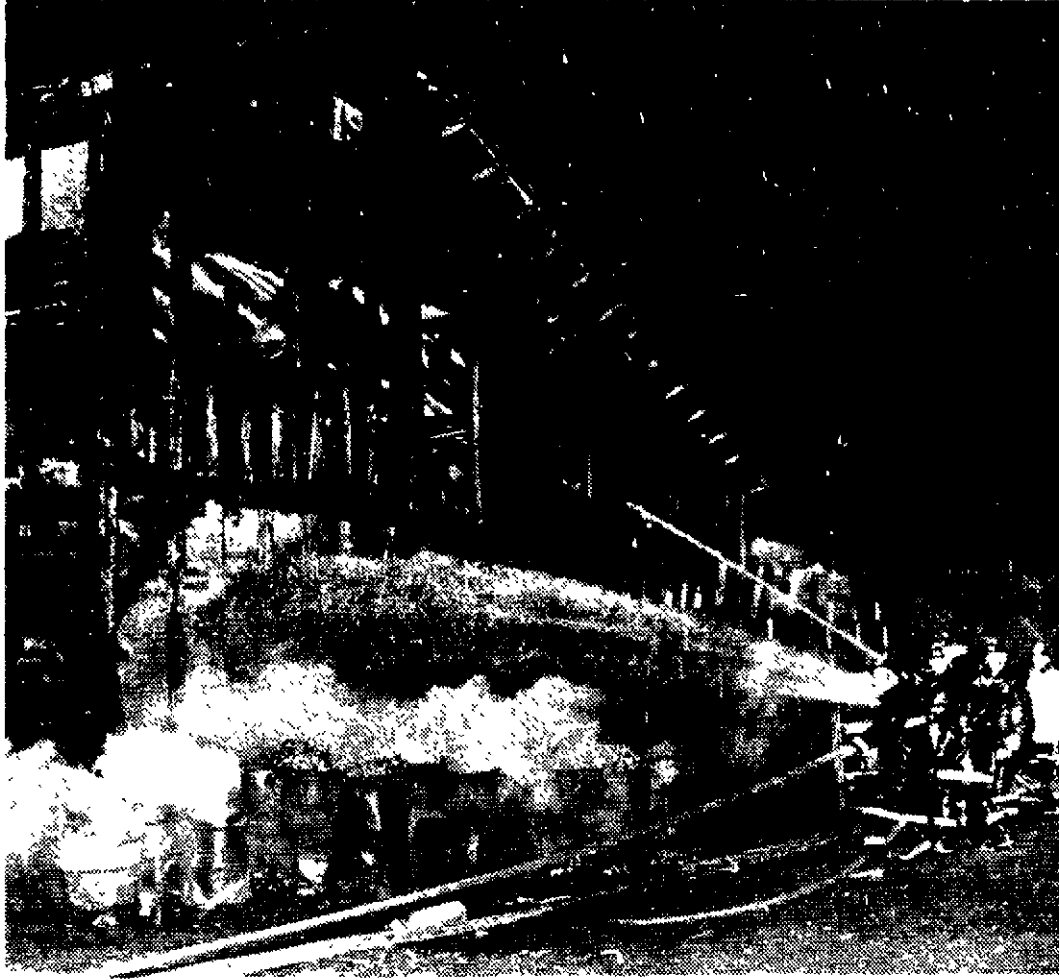

Fitzgerald, who bought the firm about five years ago, said most of the feeds and grains in the building were bagged, except for the corn, which was bulk.

Machinery Destroyed

Milling machinery and other merchandise commonly found in a feed mill also were destroyed. Several members of the Fitzgerald family and part-time

Fire, That Apparently started in a barrel of refuse, raced through Kurz & Root Co., Inc., warehouse Friday night, causing a loss that could go as high as $500,000. Appleton firemen, who brought the spectacular blaze under control in half an hour, stayed at the scene about five hours. At left, Fire Chief Roland

Appleton Man New President OF US Motors

Bellinger Leaves Kurz and Root For Oshkosh Firm

OSHKOSH — Clyde M. Bellinger was named as president and chief executive officer of U.S. Motors Corp., effective Nov. 1, J. F. McRoberts, executive vice president, announced today.

Bellinger

Bellinger, 1915 N. Gillett St., Appleton, had been associated with Kurz and Root Co., Appleton, first as executive vice president and since April, 1966, as president and general manager.

Eugene B. Brownell, treasurer and chairman of the board of directors of Kurz and Root Co., before Bellinger joined the firm, will re-assume the presidency. Brownell has been chief executive officer since 1960.

Has Background

Bellinger has a background in sales and management with companies in the engine and turbine power and the electric generating power fields.

For 25 years he was associated with Continental Motors Corp., Muskegon, Mich., where he was executive vice president of engine sales and service.

Before that, he was a professional management engineer with Trundle Associates, Cleveland.

Bellinger's appointment is the most recent of a series of re-organizational moves started in 1964 in management and sales departments.

Power Firm Tracks Trouble

Circuit Breaker Shut Down Line North of Appleton

A power outage which interrupted electric service in portions of Appleton and the rural area north of the city Friday morning was caused when circuit breakers shut down a transmission line between Appleton and Bonduel.

The power outage affected a portion of Appleton's downtown, a northwest portion of the city and the rural area.

The electricity went off at 11:23 a.m. and approximately 75 per cent of the affected area had power again within five minutes. Service was fully restored in the rest of the city, including the downtown area, by 11:47 a.m.

Circuit breakers are protective devices designed to take a line out of service when an abnormal situation occurs. Circuit breakers can take a line out of service if a tree branch falls on a line, or if some other disturbance occurs. Often, these situations are self-corrected.

Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. employees are continuing their investigation today in hopes of determining the actual cause of Friday's service interruption.

Harrington Closes Conference UW to Help Cities

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — Local government units — plagued with social and economic problems — can expect help from the state's No. 1 school of higher learning.

The pledge was made Friday by President Fred H. Harrington of the University of Wisconsin at the closing session of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities conference.

"Universities and colleges have not given enough attention to local government," Harrington said.

"It has taken a great urban crisis to make us conscious of the problems of the cities."

Get Together

He said it was past due time for state and local educational units and government to get together to help resolve the urban crisis.

Harrington said at one time university emphasis was on federal government but claimed that over the past decade or so state and local levels have become as fully important.

The head of one of the larger universities in the country spoke to mayors, council members and other city and village officials without a prepared text, and explained why.

"The past few days I have been giving time to other matters," Harrington said, an obvious reference to the riot that broke out on the campus Wednesday, resulting in many injuries and suspension of several students.

Extensions Expanding

But Harrington did plug the university's extension program which extends out into the state and provides many services. He said it was being expanded to money available to help our work more with local, state and cities."

Harrington said.

He said institutions of higher learning could do much in that the university's extension researching urban problems and program has been acclaimed as outstanding, Harrington declared.

"If we are the best... then it is too bad, because we haven't, who think otherwise, I happen to even reached first base when it comes to education and local government getting together."

He said the university is constantly seeking additional federal, state and local money to look into local problems.

Seeking Money

Harrington said the next generation is the generation of the cities, and advised, "It needs Washington to get this kind of help."

County Plans 2nd Rifle, Bow Range

Outagamie Conservation Club Proposes Site Near Appleton

Rifle and archery range facilities are nearly complete at Kaukauna and the Outagamie County Board's agriculture and conservation committee checked out a second site Friday.

The new site is on a 200 by 900 foot tract, which would be donated to the county by the Outagamie County Conservation Club at its club grounds about eight miles north of Appleton.

Conservation Warden Dale Morey told the committee that the site could easily be developed and that funds were available for it in this year's budget. The state provides funds for recreation developments which the county must match.

After the site is developed the club can make minor improvements but basic maintenance will be the county's responsibility.

Near Kaukauna

The Kaukauna range is off County Trunk ZZ on Z on land donated by the City of Kaukauna. A parking area is being developed at the top of the hill on highway access land owned by the county.

Thilmany Pulp and Paper Corp. of Kaukauna has been dumping its coal wastes into the deep ravine nearby. The range area is in a depression between the hill area and the highway.

An access road to the range area will permit the county highway department to reach the site and provide seeding and other maintenance from time to time. Cost of developing the site was estimated at $500, half of which would be state funds.

The range is terraced to provide shooting from distances of 100, 75, 50 and 25 feet. The shortest distance would accommodate bow hunters, Morey noted.

Seattle Other Site

The county highway department will provide a sign on the highway to designate the area.

An earlier proposed range site on land owned by Landwehr, Inc., near Mackville has been scuttled because of adjoining private property which jutted into the proposed area.

Soil Conservationist Vernon Geiger opposed county responsibility for maintaining the site. He felt it should be the responsibility of the municipality containing the site. However, he did not oppose developing another range.

Outagamie Proposes Record $7.6 Million 1968 Budget

Supervisors Get Chance to Slice Nov. 6; See $3.3 Million Levy

An Outagamie County budget of $7,696,910 calling for a tax increase of $1.2 million over 1967 and the proposed levy is an increase of $582,457.

Almost $550,000 of the levy increase is the result of shifts in state costs for Social Services and institutional charge backs from the state to the county.

The county equalized tax rate for 1968 would be approximately $4.65, compared to an even $4 for this year.

Total revenues anticipated by the county are $4,389,403, compared to $3,775,926 for 1967.

List Breakdown

By categorical breakdown, anticipated expenditures for 1968 are: general government, $544,569 (up $39,000); protection of person and property, $401,859 (down $46,000); health, $809,030 (up $90,000); highway, $1,019,813 (up $86,000); education, $436,358 (up $50,000); Recreation, $41,124 (up $5,800); charities and corrections, $114,481 (down $11,000).

On the revenue side, anticipated income includes shared taxes, $828,000 (up $108,000); fees and costs, $120,050 (up $10,000); fines and forfeitures, $50,000 (up $5,000); gifts and grants (welfare aids), $2,421,671 (up $360,000); other general income, $366,310 (up $116,000); county institutions, $514,589 (down $16,000); land, other income, $48,780 (up $18,600).

The finance committee recommended applying $150,000 from general fund surplus to reduce the tax levy. This is included in the "other general income" category. Last year, there was no surplus funds applied against the levy.

Same Contingency

Also recommended for next year was a contingency fund of $100,000 to take care of emergency expenses which may arise that are not budgeted. This is the same amount placed in the contingency fund this year.

The proposed budget may still be changed by the county board when it starts its annual session Nov. 6. Requests for additional spending may be made from the floor of the board by individual supervisors and items may still be deleted from the budget by board action.

When the budget is adopted, the tax levy will be apportioned among the individual governmental units in the county according to their portion of the county's equalized valuation.

The city of Appleton will have to pay approximately half of the total county tax levy.

Bellinger Leaves Kurz and Root For Oshkosh Firm

OSHKOSH — Clyde M. Bellinger was named as president and chief executive officer of U.S. Motors Corp., effective Nov. 1, J. F. McRoberts, executive vice president, announced today.

Bellinger, 1915 N. Gillett St., Appleton, had been associated with Kurz and Root Co., Appleton, first as executive vice president and since April, 1966, as president and general manager.

Eugene B. Brownell, treasurer and chairman of the board of directors of Kurz and Root Co., before Bellinger joined the firm, will re-assume the presidency. Brownell has been chief executive officer since 1960.

Bellinger has a background in sales and management with companies in the engine and turbine power and the electric generating power fields.

For 25 years he was associated with Continental Motors Corp., Muskegon, Mich., where he was executive vice president of engine sales and service.

Before that, he was a professional management engineer with Trundle Associates, Cleveland.

Bellinger's appointment is the most recent of a series of re-organizational moves started in 1964 in management and sales departments.

Appleton Woman Hurt in Crash

OSHKOSH — A rural Appleton woman was taken to Theda Clark at 3:45 p.m. Friday with possible back and internal injuries suffered in a two-car accident on U.S. 41 near the State 150 overpass. She was later released.

County police said cars operated by Marjorie A. Zanelli, 22, route 4, and Virginia N. Pellon, 48, of 1080 Eden Drive, Neenah, were both southbound on U.S. 41 when the accident occurred. Damage to each car was estimated at $35.

Charge Called 'Bad Judgment' Bow and Arrow Hunters Get Break From Sympathetic Judge, Attorney

Two young hunters who were given conflicting times at which to appear in court, found a sympathetic judge and district attorney Friday and had conservation charges against them dismissed.

John C. Balcerak, 21, Greenfield, and Gary H. Paluszky, 22, Milwaukee, were arrested in the Town of Deer Creek the afternoon of Oct. 4 by a conservation department "special warden," who charged him with "unlawfully possessing a strung bow while traversing an area inhabited by deer after 1/2 hour after the close of daily hunting hours."

The men were informed to appear in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 at 10 a.m. Oct. 19. They were later informed by letter that the court appearance has been changed to Oct. 20 at the same time and place.

Warden Missing

They were in court Friday morning, about 15 minutes before court time. But the warden didn't appear. Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer told the men that conservation violation cases are heard only on Tuesday and Friday afternoons. The men had driven here from Milwaukee.

Schaefer asked for dismissal of the charges Friday morning, citing the time confusion for which the men were not responsible, and the fact that the arrest was made only 10 minutes after they were to have been out of the woods.

Schaefer also asked that the warden be ordered to return the hunters' bows and arrows.

Judge Gustave J. Keller concurred, saying, "The court believes in law enforcement and its need as far as conservation is concerned, but it also believes there is a matter of judgement." He said he did not feel the arrest 10 minutes after hours was reasonable, and he commended Schaefer for using "good judgement."

To add to the trouble, the hunters had already experienced, they lost their car keys, and had to leave their auto in the woods the night of Oct. 4, after their arrests.

Camy said he had read every word written in three papers about the riot in which 75 were injured, including 10 policemen, and has watched the Green Bay television stations and listened to their interpretations.

Feather Dusters

Imagine 30 policemen against 50 tough students, and some of them girls, McCamy said. "How do you, if you are a policeman, called in the first place because force was needed, combat a situation like this without using force?"

"Should we send our police out with feather dusters?" McCamy asked.

At the first poke of a police stick, someone who wants to make newspaper headlines yells "police brutality," and the reactions of an excited crowd provide the headlines, McCamy said.

Referring to the warrants, suspensions and possible expulsions, McCamy said with a serious enough infractions almost every day to cause the expelling of students. No final action is taken against students, he said until they have been before the student conduct and appeals committee.

UW Professor Labels Rioting Students Anarchists

The hard core of 50 to 75 students who started the demonstration which turned into a riot Thursday, and who start all of these things "are anarchists at heart, and totally nihilistic in their approach."

This was the view of Dr. James L. McCamy, professor of political science since 1947 at the University of Wisconsin (UW) Madison campus, who has been visiting and lecturing this week at the UW Fox Valley Center.

In an interview Friday, McCamy said he had read every word written in three papers about the riot in which 75 were injured, including 10 policemen, and has watched the Green Bay television stations and listened to their interpretations.

As a faculty member who is kept informed on who the hard core members are, and what they want, "I'm forced to agree with the chancellor that charges must be preferred against these students," he said, and added, "If we let them have their way, we would have no university at all, because they are against all disciplines at the university or in society."

Youths Figure In Cycle Theft

Appleton Police implicate three youths in cycle theft.

Appleton detectives said today that three youths, ages 17 and 18, have been implicated in the theft earlier this month of a wrecked motorcycle from N. Division Street.

Detectives said they caught the 17-year-old boy riding a cycle containing parts from the stolen machine. The boy was apprehended Thursday near Appleton High School-West. Police said the youth did not have a license.

The wrecked cycle was taken from the home of Mrs. Florence Gyron, 729 Division St., and later was found, stripped of parts, in the Fox River along Green Bay Road.

Police allege that the youths stripped the stolen cycle of parts, including the motor and wheels, and used the parts to rebuild a wrecked motorcycle owned by one of the trio. The youths were released to their parents. Police said they would seek warrants on the 18-year-olds.

Some Weird Bounces of the football occurred shortly after each of the above two plays during the Menasha-Kimberly game at Kimberly Friday night. In the top photo, Menasha's Chuck Gilbert breaks loose up the middle on the second-half kickoff, but was later hemmed in by Kimberly's Al Philipson (82), Jim De Goey (81), and Dick Van Daalwyck (83) and fumbled — only to have teammate Jack Taves (not shown) recover the ball in mid-air. In the lower picture, Kimberly's Jeff Vanden Heuvel appears set to grab a fourth-quarter interception but the ball skipped off his hands and into those of John Vander Velden of the Papermakers (not shown). Menasha's Jeff Forman (17) was the intended receiver on the goal line. Kimberly won the Mid-Eastern Conference game, 13-7.

La Follette, Horlick Blank Opponents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — Thirteen of the 20 rated schools in the Associated Press "Big Ten" and "Little Ten" poll saw football action Friday night and all of them posted victories. A dozen of them won by two touchdowns or more.

Three of the four "Big Ten" teams scored shutouts, while the fourth—Wausau, allowed one touchdown but clobbered its opponents by more than 50 points.

Of the nine "Little Ten" teams playing, three won on shutouts, and only one allowed itself to be scored on more than once.

No. 2 big school Madison LaFollette blanked crosstown rival Memorial 37-0, while fourth-ranked Racine Horlick beat Madison West 13-0.

The victories left LaFollette and Horlick locked in a tie for first place in the Big Eight conference with 5-0 league marks. All of LaFollette's games this season have been in the league, while Horlick's Friday night triumph boosted its overall record to 6-0.

Wausau which is tied for sixth place in the "Big Ten" downed LaCrosse Logan 58-6, 5-0 record against Milwaukee No. 10 school Durand battered Baldwin-Woodville 39-0.

Horlick's triumph, its sixth against no defeats, was mainly a defensive accomplishment as it was halted five times inside the Horlick 20 yard line and lost five fumbles to the Racine defenders.

Mike Vaughn scored on a 25-yard screen pass on Racine's first play of the game and Rick Colignon tallied with a five-yard run. The Rebels may have to rely on their defense from now on, since No. 1 ground gainer Jjim Covilli and leading receiver of unbeaten as No. 1 Stratford, now 8-0, beat Abbottsford, now 6-1, by a 34-6 score. Paul Burrgraf passed for two touchdowns and ran for a third in that effort.

Second-ranked Kohler, 7-0, beat Kiel, which had been rated for most of the season, 26-6 in a skirmish that clinched the Eastern Wisconsin Conference title for Kohler and ran the Blue Bombers' two-season winning streak to 14.

No. 3 small school Bloomer boosted its record to 8-0 with a 39-7 victory over Chetek, while Greenwood, 7-1, ranked fourth, beat Colby 25-0. Rick Lombard ran for three touchdowns in the latter game.

Durand maintained its lead in the Middle Border Conference as it extended its season mark to 7-0. Leading the Panther defense was John Langlois, who collected three interceptions. The offense was a team effort as six different boys scored touchdowns.

Yastrzemski Delighted With New Contract

$100,000 Reward Given Red Sox Series Superstar

BOSTON (AP) — Carl Yastrzemski, baseball's newest superstar, says his 1968 contract for an estimated $100,000 is a dream come true.

"This is the kind of figure I always dreamed about as a boy," the slugging outfielder who led the Boston Red Sox to the American League pennant said at the signing ceremonies Friday.

The Red Sox, in keeping with club policy, did not make any formal disclosure of the figure. But General Manager Dick O'Connell said the contract "makes Carl one of the best paid players in Red Sox history." And most guesses were that his estimated $45,000 salary for 1967 was upped to the $100,000 bracket for the new one-year pact.

Big Smiles

Owner Tom Yawkey was beaming with pleasure as he joked with Yastrzemski and talked to writers at the signing ceremonies.

"There is no measuring what Carl meant to us and to New England baseball this year," Yawkey said. "Carl did things for us this year that other players could not do."

Eighth ranked Stanley-Boyd, 7-1, shut out Fall Creek 35-0 and clinched the Western Clover Belt Conference championship in the process. All five of the touchdowns came on plays covering 22 yards or more as five different boys carried the ball into the end zone.

Ninth-rated Barneveld beat Hollendale 41-0, thus becoming one of the few teams in the state with an 8-0 record.

And Brillion, ranked 10th in the "Little Ten" with a 7-1 mark, beat Hortonville 34-13 in a game that saw Dick Klein score four touchdowns on short runs.

Hogan Orders Arnie Benched

HOUSTON (AP) — The great Arnold Palmer was on the bench when U.S. golf professionals went out to try to widen their 5½-2½ lead over the British today in the second phase of the 17th biennial Ryder Cup matches.

Palmer, one of the stars in America's strong start Friday in the two-ball foursomes, was surprisingly dropped from the line-up for the four morning four-ball tests although slated to return to action in the afternoon.

The decision was made by the strict U.S. captain, Ben Hogan, who didn't think it was necessary to give an explanation.

Kimberly Passing Game Topples Menasha, 13-7

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY Post-Crescent Staff Writer

KIMBERLY — Two second quarter passes from Wayne Liethen to Jeff Wildenberg, the first of which scored a touchdown and the second which came within one foot short of scoring, provided Kimberly High School with a 13-7 Mid-Eastern Conference Triumph over Menasha here Friday night.

The victory was the fourth in six conference games for the hosts while Menasha is 1-4-1. It also was the third straight triumph for coach Jack Wippich over his alma mater.

It was a game of frustrations for both clubs. Each team lost two fumbles while Menasha had three passes intercepted and picked off two Papermaker tosses.

A total of 115 yards were walked off in penalties, including seven 15-yarders, and a number of others were refused. One of the infractions cost Menasha a second half touchdown when it nullified a punt return by Gary Klapper.

Liethen and Menasha quarterback Steve Seidl spent part of the evening running for their lives and were thrown for big losses while on two occasions a pass interception and a kickoff return were fumbled by one player into the waiting hands of a teammate. It was that kind of game.

Bluejays Recover

The Papermakers fumbled the opening kickoff, Menasha recovering on its 23. The Jays made four yards on three running plays but gained little when Kimberly was assessed 15 yards on a fourth down interference call.

Two plays later, Jeff Forman, filling in for sophomore speedster Tom Scovronski, who cut his hand in a non-football injury this week and wasn't in uniform, scored on an off tackle play from the eight. Seidl added the extra point from placement.

On the last play of the first stanza, Menasha's Ed Kleczewski tried to run from punt formation on fourth down from his 35 but lost three yards.

Liethen hit a wide-open Wildenberg on the first play of the touchdown. Jeff Erbrecht's kick attempt was low.

An offensive pass interference call on the Menashans put them in the hole on their 11 later in the period and kicking into a strong wind gave up the ball to Kimberly on the 40.

Liethen found Wildenberg again and the rangy end was stopped a foot short of the end zone. Liethen went over on the

Tony Oliva To Undergo Surgery

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Tony Oliva, Minnesota Twins outfielder, will undergo surgery at St. Mary's Hospital here Tuesday for removal of loose bone fragments in his right knee, a Mayo Clinic spokesman announced late Friday.

Oliva completed three days of examinations and left Rochester for the weekend. The spokesman said the baseball star will re-enter St. Mary's Monday night.

Oliver had the same surgery on the same knee two years ago. Another Twins player, reserve first baseman Rich Reese, was released from St. Mary's Thursday after having knee surgery.

Oliva was not available for comment, but Twins President Calvin Griffith termed the knee surgery not serious at all.

"He has a few loose particles in there that have been floating around," Griffith said in the Twin Cities. "They are just like Ron Clark's elbow. They get into the joint, then pop out again. It's best to get them out of there. But there is no reason to anticipate there would be any adverse after effects at all."

Four matches with revised line-ups follow in the afternoon. The series, which the United States has lost only three times in 40 years, ends with 16 singles tilts Sunday.

Won Twice

Palmer and Gardner Dickinson won two matches Friday, beating O'Connor and Alliss 2 and 1 and then trouncing young Malcolm Gregson and Hugh Boyle 5 and 4. Palmer made a fantastic shot out of the woods for the key shot of the morning match. Fine putting by Dickinson won the second.

Giants at Full Strength for Confrontation With Packers

Lack of Injuries Contrasted by Hurting Starr, Kramer, Anderson

Post-Crescent News Service

NEW YORK — There is an ironic sidelight to Sunday's Packer appearance against the New York Giants in big town — their first regular season visit to Yankee Stadium since 1959.

The Packers, long noted for their ability to avoid injury through Vince Lombardi's spartan conditioning regimen, are troubled by hurts to three key performers — Quarterback Bart Starr, Right Guard Jerry Kramer and Halfback Donny Anderson.

In contrast, the Giants, who have been continuously burdened with casualties for several seasons, will be at full strength for Sunday's confrontation, which matches the National Football League's No. 1 offense (the Giants') and its premier defense (the Packers').

Both Kramer, who incurred an ankle sprain early in last weekend's 10-7 unpleasantness with the Minnesota Vikings at Milwaukee and did not return the rest of the afternoon, and Anderson, who suffered a pulled muscle, are expected to play tomorrow but may not be at top efficiency.

The status of Starr, who has been sidelined since the opening minutes of the Packers' 23-0 victory over the Falcons in Milwaukee, Oct. 1, remains uncertain at this point.

Alert Tarkenton

The shoulder bruise the NFL's reigning most valuable player suffered against Atlanta, following earlier thumb and rib injuries, has healed to a point where he has been able to throw more freely but a decision on his availability may not be made until Sunday morning.

The Giants, as indicated, have no such problems. Not only is Quarterback Fran Tarkenton, the new nerve center of their offense, obstreperously hale and hearty, but so is everyone else.

"Last Sunday, we had everybody ready to play against the Steelers," Giant publicity Don Smith reports, "and that was the first time in three years that all 40 were able to play."

Last season, for example, 29 of the 40 players who started the season were lost or out for long periods with major injuries.

Packer Patter

Packer Patter — Larry Merchant of the New York Daily News has come up with a deft description of the Giants' air attack. "Stripped of its mystical jargon, of its beloved square-outs and curl-ins and straight-ups, oversimplified to its schoolyard essence, the Giants have just two passing plays. The first one is 'everybody go out.' The second one is: 'homer go deep. everyone else block.' It is the most spectacular pass offense in all football." Speaking of the New Yorkers' overhead game, it looms large in their surprising 32 record—1,437 of their league leading total of 2,038 yards have come by air. Hauling (6-3 and 230) Ernie Koy leads Giant rushers with 272 yards in 56 attempts, an imposing 4.9 average. Comebacking Tucker

Bavasi to Make Bid for Seattle

Best Potential Big League City; NL, AL Interested

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The Times said Friday that E. J. "Buzzie" Bavasi, executive vice president of the Los Angeles Dodgers, will try to acquire a major league baseball franchise in Seattle.

Bavasi was quoted as saying he had clearance from Dodger owner Walter O'Malley to make the bid for the Seattle operation.

The American League this week promised the city a franchise by 1971 if a suitable stadium is provided. The Times also quoted Warren Giles, National League president, as saying in a telephone interview his circuit is also interested in expanding to Seattle.

Bavasi told the Times: "I consider Seattle has the best potential of all as a major league city. I would prefer to operate in the National League but would be willing to work in the American League."

As the Dodger general manager, Bavasi directed the team to eight National League pennants.

Frederickson, out all last season with a serious knee injury, is runnerup with 131 in 40 tries and, guess who, Fran Tarkenton is next up with 1,268 in 18 "carries." Sophomore Jim Grabowski paces the Pack with 242 in 81 attempts, a 3.0 average. Elijah Pitts is second on 121 in 48 thrusts. As might be expected, the Giants' pass receiving figures are impressive. mercurial Homer Jones, who has averaged a dazzling 31.5 yards per catch, has caught 38 for 568 yards, Aaron Thomas 17 for 305, a 17.9 average, and Joe Morrison 12 for 250, a 20.8 average. Carroll Dale and Boyd Dowler share the Packer lead with 17 receptions each. Dale's catches have netted him 400 yards, a 23.5 average, while Dowler has amassed 211 yards, a 13.0 average.

Raiders Edge Shawano, 7-0, On TD Aerial

SHAWANO — The Two Rivers Purple Raiders stopped the Shawano Indians here last night 7-0 in Mid-Eastern Wisconsin Conference action.

The only scoring of the game took place in the second quarter when Two Rivers quarterback Lee Mueller completed an 11-yard pass to halfback Craig Strohm who ran over for the TD. Shawano moved the ball freely, as witnessed by their total of 234 yards compared to 106 by Two Rivers, but the Indians were stopped several times from making key first downs and were held scoreless by the Raiders.

Last night's action leaves Shawano with a 3-3 record and Two Rivers at 4-1-1.

Hoffman Scores Four Touchdowns For Winners in Weird Contest

CLINTONVILLE — Paul Hoffman scored four touchdowns as Clintonville outlasted plus the extra point by La Dorde Kaukauna, 34-29, in a Mid-Eastern Conference struggle here Friday night.

Hoffman scored on a run of 1 yard, a 60-yard punt return, a 65-yard pass from quarterback Bill Sasse, and an 18-yard run in the final period that proved to be the final margin of victory.

The winners had built a 13-7 halftime edge into a 32-14 bulge in the third period, but Kaukauna came back to make the contest close in the final minutes.

On the first play after the opening kickoff Clintonville intercepted a Dave LaDorde pass on the 40 yard line of Kaukauna and marched in for the score capped off by a 1 yard plunge by the Hoffman. Keith Paroubek kicked the extra point.

In the second quarter Hoffman took a Kaukauna punt on his own 40 yard line and ran it 60 yards for the score. After a bad snap from center Clintonville was forced to give the ball up on Stevens after their own 20 yard line. Kelton Winston has been reac-

8 to end the drive. Dave LaDorde kicked the extra point.

In the third quarter Hoffman scored on a 65 yard pass from Bill Sasse. The extra point try was wide of the mark. Later in the period after several unsuccessful drives Clintonville was forced to punt. The punt was blocked on the Clintonville 16, and rolled into the end zone.

Dave Bruehl fell on the ball for the score. The extra point was no good. Bill Sasse came back with a 1 yard run for Clintonville after a fumble recovery and the extra point was good by Keith Paroubek. Clintonville then intercepted another LaDorde pass, as Dennis Schwenke raced 56 yards for the score. The extra point was no good.

Bob Kennedy Named Oakland Manager

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — Now the hopefuls at the Oakland Athletics' winter instructional camp know why Bob Kennedy has been so interested in their progress.

The onetime head coach of the Chicago Cubs will be their manager if they make it to the major leagues when the Athletics move to Oakland next season.

Owner Charles Finley announced in Chicago Friday that he had signed Kennedy to a two-year contract, as the veteran watched the rookies work out near here.

Kennedy, a coach for the Atlanta Braves last season, was signed two weeks ago, but Finley held up the announcement until the American League had approved shifting the franchise from Kansas City.

Applying Replaced

Kennedy replaces Luke Appling who took over temporarily after Finley fired Alvin Dark following a rhubarb last August.

Watching the rookies work out, Kennedy called the Athletics "a promising club... with lots of young talent just waiting to grow into the job."

In his 16-year major-league playing career Kennedy played first play and Erbrecht booted the point.

Menasha advanced to the Kimberly 25 after the kickoff but Jeff Haas intercepted a fourth down pass on the final play of the first half.

Early in the third stanza, the Jays moved from their 34 to the Kimberly five but the Papermakers' alert pass defense, this time Mark Ristau, swiped a second down throw. He fumbled the ball but guard John Vander Velden grabbed it in mid-air, advancing to the 17.

Kimberly made three first downs enroute to Menasha's 36 but Liethen lost 25 yards on two passes and another try fell incomplete. The punt was partially blocked, taken by Klapper on the 30 and he went in for an apparent score.

Another Interception

Menasha, however, was for the Chicago White Sox, charged with a personal foul and penalized 15 yards. It still wasn't enough for a Kimberly first-time batting average of .255 as down so it booted again and this time the Menashans had to start and outfielder.

Chambers to be Inducted; Lakers Look for Fill-in LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers basketball team, already troubled with star Jerry West on the sidelines with a broken hand, got another jolt Friday when forward Jerry Chambers was inducted into the army.

Chambers was an outstanding rookie from Utah in his first year in the National Basketball Association in 1966. He is 6-5, 215 pounds.

General Manager Fred Schaus said every effort will be made to find a replacement, hopefully by the time the team makes its first home appearance here against Cincinnati next Wednesday.

Philadelphia Eagles Feud With Kuharich Behind Snider Firing

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A rift between Ed Snider and General Manager-Coach Joe Kuharich apparently is one of the reasons which provoked owner Jerry Wolman to fire Snider Thursday.

Wolman is operating head of the National Football League's Philadelphia Eagles.

The bitterness between Kuharich and Snider broke out during a news conference Friday night after Snider, Wolman and co-owner Earl Foreman met for 45 minutes and failed to resolve their dispute over Snider's dismissal.

Kuharich started the exchange when he needed Snider during the questioning. "I'm enjoying this," said the coach from his position behind newsmen.

The grim looking Snider snapped, "Maybe next time it will be your party Joe."

The repartee started when Foreman, executive vice president and secretary as well as a 48 per cent stockholder in the Eagles, disclosed that Snider had a 15-year contract with the club. Asked when it was dated, Foreman said he believed it was 1965.

Kuharich interrupted to say it was 1964. "The same year I got mine," Kuharich is in the fourth year of a 15-year contract.

Trading Season Ended in NFL, AFL, 118 Dealt

Los Angeles, Denver Most Active; Backs, Tackles Top List

NEW YORK (AP) — The pro football trading season ended last Sunday night with a total of 47 deals in the National Football League and 27 in the American Football League.

There can be no more trading during the regular season. Waivers must be secured before any player can move from one club to another.

The most active traders among NFL teams were the Los Angeles Rams, with 11, and the New York Giants, with 10. Dallas made only two deals, the league low.

Although the number of NFL trades was only short of the record set in 1962, the number of players involved, 66, was well below the record of 79 in 1961. Of the 66 players swapped, 24 now are regulars. Bernie Casey, who went from San Francisco to Atlanta to Los Angeles was the only player involved in two 1967 trades.

Assortment of Players

A breakdown of the players involved shows that nine running backs, nine tackles, eight receivers, seven guards, seven quarterbacks, seven linebackers, five defensive ends, five defensive tackles, four tight ends, three defensive backs and one center were traded.

The Denver Broncos were most active in the AFL, with nine trades, followed by Buffalo, eight. The Boston Patriots were least active with only one deal.

A total of 52 players were included in AFL transactions, including nine quarterbacks, eight receivers, seven defensive backs, five defensive tackles, five guards, four defensive ends, four linebackers, four centers, three tackles, three running backs and one place kicker.

Hilbert Whips Omro, 27-0

Brillion, Denmark Stay Tied for Little Nine Conference Leadership

Brillion and Denmark remain in a first-place deadlock by posting victories, while second-place shareholder Hilbert also won in a trio of Little Nine Conference games Friday night.

Both the Lions and Vikings now own identical 7-1 records, with just one game remaining for each team on the schedule. Hilbert has a 6-2 mark and still has a chance to share the title should Brillion and Denmark lose and the Wolves win next weekend. Freedom was at Reedsville and Wrightstown at Winneconne Saturday afternoon.

None of the contests were of the "close" variety, as Brillion rolled over Hortonville, 24-13; Denmark tripped Shiocton, 21-6; and Hilbert slugged Omro, 27-0.

At Brillion, the Lions' Dick Klein had a field day against the Polar Bears, scoring four touchdowns on runs of three, three, eight and one yards.

The action began right after the kickoff, when Klein capped off an initial 66-yard drive with a 3-yard run for the TD. Brillion scored again later, with Klein running three yards, this time after a 45-yard drive with Russ Hansen kicking the extra point. Hortonville's John Kaddatz set up the TD. Ted Meyer kicked the extra point.

In the second quarter Brillion scored twice again. Ken Schwann received a 29-yard pass from Hansen following a fumble-recovery and ran for the TD. He also kicked the point. Then Klein scored on an 8-yard run after a 50-yard drive bringing the half-time score to 27-7.

Trade Scores

The third quarter saw Klein score again, this time on a one-yard run capping a 50-yard drive. Hortonville talked in the fourth quarter with Jay Corty scoring on a one-yard run bringing the game's final score to 24-13.

At Denmark Shiocton was defeated 21-6 with Shiocton scoring only in the second quarter.

Mike Hickey commenced the Denmark scoring with a 3-yard run after a 22-yard pass and Tom Umentum kicked the extra point.

Denmark scored again in the second, this time with John Roberts completing a 71-yard pass to Umentum, who went over for the TD and who also kicked the extra point. Shiocton's quarterback Gary Johnson scored on a 6-yard roll out play, bringing the half-time score to 14-6.

After a scoreless third quarter, Denmark scored again when Larry Goral ran 25 yards after a fumble-recovery. Umentum kicked the point again and set up a 27-0 final score.

Wolves Romp

Hilbert smashed unthreatening Omro at Omro 27-0, scoring in the first three periods.

The Wolves began with a 5-yard run by Dennis Hein topping off a 65-yard drive. In the second quarter John Palmbach scored twice, both times on four-yard plunges. The first capped a 45-yard drive, the second was after a fumble recovery. Terry Schwalenberg kicked the extra points and brought the half-time score to 20-0.

Palmbach finished off the Hilbert sweep in the third quarter by scoring on a 28-yard run after a reverse. Schwalenberg again kicked the extra point.

Twins' Battey Guilty in Tax Evasion Case

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Minnesota Twins catcher Earl Battey Jr., pleaded guilty Thursday to one of three counts of having failed to file a federal income tax return.

Federal Judge Earl Larson referred the case to federal probation authorities and set Dec. 15 for sentencing. Battey requested the delay, saying he would be in New York.

Battey, 32, of St. Paul, pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to file a return for the year 1964. U.S. District Attorney Patrick Foley said the ballplayer's income was $39,000 that year. Maximum penalty is one year in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Foley said he would ask the court to dismiss two other counts accusing Battey of having failed to file in 1962, when he reportedly had income of $28,378, and in 1963, when it was listed as $32,931.

Federal income taxes withheld during those three years was $15,700.

Battey served five days in the Ramsey County Workhouse last year after he had pleaded guilty to failing to file a state income tax return for 1962.

Fairly Leads Golf Tourney Into Final Round

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Ron Fairly of the Los Angeles Dodgers headed into today's final round of the Baseball Celebrity Golf Tournament at the Canyon Country Club with the low total among the diamond stars—222 for 54 holes.

Fairly scored a 72 Friday and passed up two-day leader Sammy Ellis, pitcher for the Cincinnati Reds.

Ellis and San Francisco Giant Jim Davenport are tied for second with three-round totals of 221. Ellis had a 76 for the day, Davenport a 74.

The lowest round of the day was shot by Boston's Ken Harrelson—a 69 for a three-day total of 226. Dodgers Bob Bailey and Willie Davis are right behind with scores of 228 and 230, respectively.

Carty and Rivas Pace Dominican Republic to 1-0 Win Over Pirates

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican baseball all-stars edged the Pittsburgh Pirates 1-0 Thursday night to even the series of exhibition games at one game apiece.

The Dominicans were paced in victory by a double by Rico Carty and the combined pitching of left-handed Danilo Rivas and right-hander Pedro Borbon. Carty brought Victor Ramirez home on a double in the third inning for the only run of the game.

The Pirates loaded the bases with no outs in the second inning as Rivas allowed Don Cienfuegos a single and then walked Manuel Mota and Gene Alley. A pop out and double play erased the threat.
